

PRELIMINARY WORK WILL BE COMPLETED

INTEREST CENTERED IN THE SELECTION OF COMMITTEE MEMBERS

Many Forecasts Have Been Made as to the Probable Personnel of Various Chairmanships—Jackson Day Banquet is Feature of Week Which Will be Held Monday Night

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—Members of the fifty-third general assembly of Illinois will return here Monday to complete the preliminary work of the session and will properly convene Tuesday morning after a vacation of five days since their adjournment last Thursday, following the opening session Tuesday when the first woman legislator of Illinois was seated and Governor Len Small's biennial message was read. The only other matter of political significance is the Jackson day banquet to be held here Monday evening.

The program for the coming week will be centered in the selection of committee members with innumerable forecasts being made as to the chairmanships. Speaker Shanahan has not decided upon these so far and the lists of slates of wishes of various members have not all been received by him. This work is likely to continue for a week or so before the committees take definite form.

Among the forecasts made for various committee chairmanships by various members from an unofficial standpoint are the following:

CHANGE IN POLICY OF FRANCE SEEMS IMPOSSIBLE NOW

U. S. Officials Fear Chaos May Follow French Action

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The possibility of any development abroad to change the policy of France and bring American aid into the reparations breach in Europe appeared tonight to be fading hour by hour.

There is reason to believe that the government not only sees no further opportunity at this time to suggest a way to Franco-British reconciliation, but lacks also any intimation that its good offices will be sought from across the Atlantic at least in advance of an actual test of the French theories on reparations.

Once the French plan has been tried and its results demonstrated the resistance with respect to American aid may change.

But there is no doubt that American official opinion is gravely concerned lest political chaos and a complete economic breakdown come in Germany before that point has been reached. The official attitude in Washington still is that of a sympathetic spectator, friendly to all parties to the crisis and with American good offices and economic strength available at any time to allied leaders if they can find a way of reaching out for American help. But while official activities are hampered by considerations of the most delicate nature American business working along

Robbery Victim Tries to Frustrate the Law

(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Mrs. Irene Schoellkopf's professed determination to frustrate the prosecution of her actor-friend, Frank "Barrie" Carman, accused of complicity with two others in robbing her of $500,000 worth of jewels today impelled district attorney Barton to order his staff to help the police "bring this whole matter to light."

This joining of forces in an attempt to lift the mystery surrounding the disappearance of the gems on New Year's eve during an alleged attack upon Mrs. Schoellkopf as she was leaving a party at Carman's studio; reported differences between the woman and her husband, C. P. Hugo Schoellkopf, a rich Buffalo broker over the advisability of pressing their claims to insurance on the jewels; and Carman's alleged offer to make "startling

DEFENSE EXPECTS TO COMPLETE ITS CASE NEXT WEEK

Many Witnesses Have Been Called to Prove Alibis

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Ill., Jan. 6.—Attorneys for the defense after introducing several witnesses to prove alibis, expressed confidence today that they would close their case before the end of the next week.

In the seven days of court sessions since the state rested, after putting 39 witnesses on the stand, more than 75 witnesses have been called by the defense in carrying out its announced intention of seeking to prove "justification" and "alibis" for all of the accused.

The first testimony was designed to support the contention that acts of aggression on the part of the armed guards at the mine were responsible for the riots that culminated in the killing of three union miners and 20 non-union workers on June 21 and June 22.

During the past two days 22 alibi witnesses have taken the stand all of whom have asserted they saw six of the non-union men surrounded at the mine, marched thru the streets of Herrin to the community on the outskirts of the town where they were shot down but that none of the defendants were in the crowd witnesses testified.

The state introduced testimony designed to show that three of the defendants had been seen at various points in the line of march with guns, but the majority of the witnesses for the defense declared that they had seen no fire arms. A few of them said that they had seen only two or three persons with guns. They described the 10 or 15 men who had charge of the prisoners as dark, foreign looking individuals all of whom were strangers in the community.

At the end of the morning session after seven witnesses had been heard Judge Hartwell announced an adjournment until Tuesday to permit him to open another court session in Metropolis.

House Appropriations Committee—Edward J. Smejkal, Chicago.
Judiciary Committee—Former Speaker Dahlberg, Chicago.
Roads and Bridges—Homer J. Tice, Greenville.
Revenue—Carl Mueller, Chicago.
In the senate forecasts are made for the following:
Judiciary Committee—John Dailey, Peoria.
Appropriations—Harry Wright, DeKalb.
Utilities—William S. Jewell, Lewistown.
Should Senator Jewell receive the chairmanship as predicted by the politically well informed, such transportation bills as may be presented from Chicago and Cook county, would be in his charge.

Senator Richard A. Barry, Joliet, who was chosen as president pro tem in the Republican caucus here Monday night, and who was formally given the position Tuesday in the opening senate session and Speaker David E. Shanahan will pilot the assembly. The latter as speaker of the house, is chairman of the rules committee.

The seating of Mrs. O'Neill, broke all precedents in the history of state. Both Democrats and Republicans joined in welcoming her and discarded their political enmities in making her feel at home. She cast the first vote of the session for Speaker Shanahan, made a seconding speech to his nomination, posed for photographers, was the guest of honor at banquets and various club programs, drew her pay and expense check of $3,550 and made the women of Illinois proud by her businesslike manner and becoming modesty, despite the attentions and eloquence showered upon her.

A flare up in the senate over the seating of Senator Adolph Marks of Chicago, in preference to Norman MacPherson, was the only ruffle to disturb the otherwise peaceful and harmonious sessions.

In the opening session a resolution expressing the senate's indignation at "arbitrary and un-

ANOTHER VICTIM OF FLORIDA RIOT BURIED SATURDAY

James Carrier, Killed Saturday Morning, is Buried

(By The Associated Press)
ROSEWOOD, Fla., Jan. 6.—A new grave was dug in the negro cemetery at Sumner near here today and in it Sheriff Walker placed the body of James Carrier whose death at the hands of several white men this morning was the sequel of the clash between the races at Rosewood Thursday night.

Carrier was shot to death while standing on the graves of the four other negroes who fell in the fighting that followed an attempt of white men to enter a house in search of Jesse Hunter, wanted for alleged implication in an attack on a white girl at Sumner.

According to information received by officials Carrier was seized by several white men this morning and accused of having been in the house from which negroes fired on the approaching white men, killing two of their number.

When he is said to have refused to reveal the names of the negroes who did the shooting, the white men, officers were informed, led him to the negro graveyard and made him stand on the newly dug graves of his brother and mother, also victims of the fighting, while they shot him.

Meanwhile, Hunter, search for whom has resulted in the seven deaths is still at large. Sheriff Walker has been informed a negro answering his description is under arrest in Lakeland but the man's identity has not been confirmed. Officers stated tonight that the situation in the entire vicinity was quiet and they said no further trouble was expected. The negroes of Rosewood have been in hiding in the woods since Thursday night and those in the nearby villages do not venture from their quarters it was reported.

BELGIANS TO ASSIST IN FRENCH OCCUPATION
(By The Associated Press)
BRUSSELS, Jan. 6.—Two Belgian divisions will assist seven French divisions in the occupation of Essen and the Ruhr districts, says Lessor, this evening. It adds it has reliable information that an agreement to this effect has been made between the French and Belgian delegates.

The arrangement must be referred to the parliament and the king the newspaper states, but in any event Belgian participation in the military occupation has been agreed to in principle.

Will Not Comment.
Paris, Jan. 6.—Officials of the French foreign office say they cannot comment on the Brussels report respecting the reinforcement of "seven French divisions" of the occupation of German territory by two Belgian divisions. Nothing of the arrangements between the Belgian, Italian and French delegates after the departure of the British from Paris conference it is explained may be discussed.

Wichita, Kansas, Jan. 6.—Years of activity of anxiety and prayer in an endeavor to get his pension raised from $50 to $72 a month so that he could live more comfortably were rewarded one hour too late for Will R. "An hour after his death notification was received that the increase had been granted. He formerly was mayor of Quincy, Ill.

Fairmont, Minn., Jan. 6.—Clarence Hamblen, confessed slayer and home burner, today was being taken to the state penitentiary at Stillwater, to begin serving a life sentence for second degree murder.

Hamblen, confessed, authorities said, that he burned a barn and his automobile, collected $2,000 insurance and then poisoned his wife, collecting $1,000 additional insurance.

Davenport, Iowa, Jan. 6.—Miss Bertha Kundert, of Rockingham, 26, was instantly killed last night when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a train. Her sister Sarah Kundert was slightly injured as was the driver of the car, Charles Kundtson of Durant.

BARTHOU INSISTS ON MONDAY FOR HEARING

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Jan. 6.—M. Barthou's insistence that the Germans be heard by the reparations commission Monday instead of Wednesday as advocated by Sir John Bradbury the British members is interpreted in official circles as meaning that the French government proposes to take some action at an early date and that as soon as the reparations committee has handed down its decision regarding coal deliveries the French will move into Essen. After that the French government might be willing to discuss matters with the Germans, should the latter express such a desire.

BRIEFS

(By The Associated Press)
Chicago, Jan. 6.—J. E. Fanning has been appointed district engineer of the western lines of the Illinois Central Railroad with headquarters in Waterloo, Ia., it was announced today.

Peoria, Ill., Jan. 6.—Following an attempt to steal two cement slabs from a porch steps here Thursday night came the alleged stealing of electric power from a privately owned electric line in the country here. Henry Hagerman is being held for the alleged current theft.

Chicago, Jan. 6.—John J. Stream, war-time head of the coarse grain division of the United States Grain Corporation, today was the unopposed candidate for the presidency of the Chicago Board of Trade. The election will be held January 8, when a vice-president and five directors also will be selected.

Washington, Jan. 6.—President Harding today tendered Secretary of Commerce Hoover the place as secretary of the interior, which Albert B. Fall will vacate on March 4, but after a conference it was decided that Mr. Hoover would retain his present position. Secretary Hoover told the president he desired to continue his efforts to "make a real department" out of the commerce organization.

Dixon, Ill., Jan. 6.—Fire starting from back fire from a gasoline engine operating a milking machine on one of a chain of J. Wilbur Crawford farms east of here yesterday afternoon at 4:30 consumed four modern buildings and contents, entailing a loss estimated at $10,000. All stock and machinery were removed to safety. Hundreds of bushels of corn, oats and tons of hay were totally destroyed.

ISSUE OF PEACE OR WAR PUT UP TO THE ALLIES

Ismet Pasha Tells Them Key to Peace
in Their Hands

(By The Associated Press)
LAUSANNE, Jan. 7.—Peace or war was the grave issue placed squarely before the Near Eastern conference today. Ismet Pasha for Turkey brought this issue concisely before the delegates, when, after refusing all allied suggestions concerning special courts for foreigners in Turkey he declared solemnly:

"Gentlemen, the key of peace lies in your hands."

Lord Curzon, accepting the challenge retorted:

"If peace is to come at Lausanne it is essential that some arrangement on the question of foreign tribunals be arrived at," and he added significantly:

"We hope that time will soften the Turkish attitude and that Turkey will not maintain her position of today."

The discussion took place before the full commission on capitulations, which adjourned without reaching and accord on the most vital question on the agenda and without fixing a date for the next meeting. The debate on capitulations, during which Ismet Pasha praised American ambassador Child for his recent eloquent address on the question of the foreign judiciary system was dignified thorough and marked by no evidence of ill feeling. In this respect it differed greatly from the morning session which took up the question of providing a national home for the Armenians.

Makes Violent Attack.
Angry at the allies' attempt even to bring the Armenian question into the official discussion Riza Nur Bey, the second Turkish delegate, delivered a short but violent attack on the allies "then brusquely marched out of the meeting hall."

In consequence of this, Lord Curzon, M. Barrere and Marquis Di Geroni forwarded a strong letter of protest to Ismet Pasha, requesting the head of the Turkish delegation to write some explanation of his colleague's conduct.

Riza Nur Bey, who usually says the "caustic things for the Turks when the Turks believe they must be said was not daunted by the allied protest but appeared smiling and gracious at the afternoon meeting when the fateful problem of capitulations was discussed. The unfortunate incident of the morning which followed the allies' request that Turkey give her attention from the humanitarian point of view to the question of providing a national home for the Armenians, produced a bad impression. Ismet Pasha's dignified rejection of the allies' proposals on capitulations only served to aggravate this impression.

Riza Nur refused to listen to the suggestions regarding Armenia and accused the allies of intriguing with the Armenians and Assyrio-Chaldeans during the great war.

In refusing to accept the transitory period in which Turkey would permit foreigners to be tried before Turkish courts with foreign judges present on the bench Ismet Pasha declared that this would be contrary to Turkish sovereignty.

His country, he pointed out, permitted magistrates to administer justice and the Turkish judicial system offered ample protection to foreigners desiring to carry on business in Turkey.

SENATE VOTES FOR WITHDRAWAL OF U.S. TROOPS FROM RHINE

Resolution is Approved by a Vote of 57 to 6
—Futile Efforts Made to Stave off Vote
—Senators Declare There is Grave Danger of United States Becoming Involved

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—A resolution favoring immediate withdrawal of the American forces on the Rhine was adopted by the senate today at the moment when administration forces were organizing for a fight against another proposed expression of senatorial opinion regarding reparations.

The troop resolution approved by a vote of 56 to 7, after a day of debate and private consultation, regarding American relationships to the crisis in Europe was supported on the final roll call by the Republican leaders despite an earlier effort to prevent a vote.

There was no indication tonight that the senate's action would effect any change in the present policy of the administration or that any plans were being made for the return to the United States of the small American force still in Germany. As originally introduced by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, the resolution would have requested withdrawal of the troops but it was modified before passage merely to embody an expression of opinion.

The reparations resolution, which would authorize American representation on the reparations commission was not debated but there was much private maneuvering against it on the part of the administration senators after Chairman Lodge of the foreign relations committee had sought and obtained the views of Secretary Hughes regarding it. Returning to the capitol after a long talk with the secretary, Mr. Lodge stated it was his opinion that the time was "inopportune" for senate action.

It was indicated that the resolution which was introduced by Senator Robinson, Democrat, Arkansas, would remain in the foreign relations committee for a week at least without action while the committee waited for Secretary Hughes to compile a report of the activities of the American unofficial observers attached to the reparations commission.

Fear Entanglements.
The resolution for withdrawal of American troops was pressed largely on the ground that the French reparations policy, contemplating military occupation of the Ruhr, might entangle America by involving the American troops. Its adoption was preceded by futile efforts to stave off a vote by a motion to refer the matter to the foreign relations committee for investigation.

This motion was defeated 39 to 22.

Thirty three Republicans and 24 Democrats including Senators Lodge and Underwood of Alabama both party leaders, supported the resolution. The six opponents of the resolution were four Republicans, Nelson, Minnesota, New, Indiana; Reed, Pennsylvania and Sterling, South Dakota and two Democrats, Meyers, Montana and Williams, Mississippi.

The opposition said the senate lacked information as to the administration's course in holding the American contingent in Germany and also on the ground that the force was a stabilizing influence in Europe.

In supporting the resolution senators of both parties declared there was danger of complications to America if France should pursue her plan of military occupation of Germany.

Stefansson Predicts
Air Routes Over Pole
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson, Arctic explorer today announced his abandonment of his career as an explorer to devote his efforts to proving to a skeptical world that within a decade or two the North Polar ocean will be crossed by a network of commercial aviation routes and that the arctic regions, hitherto known as mysterious unhabitable lands, will be the source of developed resources unlimited in magnitude.

"I am thru with exploring," he declared to The Associated Press. "I will devote myself seriously to the abolition of the polar regions. The aura of mystery surrounding the north is a pall of ignorance. The polar regions are a state of mind."

Mr. Stefansson said his decision to give up the polar explorations which have made him internationally famous was prompted by his conviction that the age of exploration of the north now was to yield to the age of commercial development. He felt, he said, that he should give up exploring while he was still young enough to develop his career as a "propagandist" or enlightener of the north. Exploring was a young man's game, he added.

Development of the arctic country as a path of commercial air routes certainly would be made within next generation Mr. Stefansson asserted. The temperature 1,000 feet above the north pole in July, he said, was about the same as that 1,000 feet above France in April. The light conditions were ideal.

WITNESSES SAY
MEN WERE PUT TO
DEATH BY TORTURE
(By The Associated Press)
BASTROP, La., Jan. 6.—Watt Daniel and Fletcher Richards were put to death on a rack of torture, according to testimony today of pathologists who had examined their crushed and mutilated bodies after they were recovered from Lake Lafourche. They were victims of a black hooded band, it was testified by their companions, who escaped with floodings.

Exhibiting crushed and broken bones as visible evidence, Dr. Charles Duval and Dr. John Landford, pathologists testified that scientific examination of the bodies of the two men showed that they had been tortured on a device "specially constructed for inflicting punishment."

The men who halted the automobile party of which Daniel and Richards were members were black hoods it was testified by witnesses who felt the wrath of the raiders but were only flogged.

These were the outstanding features of a day of testimony of an investigation undertaken under the direction of Governor Parker to fix responsibility for the slaying of Daniels and Richards and reveal perpetrators of other masked band depredations which the governor has laid at the door of the Ku Klux Klan.

Describing in minute detail the crushed and mutilated condition of the bodies, the two pathologists testified that the men were subjected to torture in what was

A THOUGHT

So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom. — Psalm 90:12.

It avails us nothing unduly to bemoan our errors or losses. For happen what may to the man of simple faith, still, when the last minute comes of the sorrowful hour, when the week or the year is ended, still will he find some cause for gladness as he turns his eyes within.—Maeterlinck.

The fact that Wallace Reid's five year old son fell from a velocipede and knocked out three teeth was an item of sufficient importance to occupy front page space in some of the metropolitan newspapers. Such is fame.

In South Dakota a member of the legislature returned to the state $187 paid him during the days of illness which made it impossible for him to attend legislative sessions. It goes without saying that this legislator must have been serving his first term and was not familiar with assembly usages.

As someone has said, this phrase of Coue's "I am growing much better and better," is a much pleasanter way of regaining strength and health than the gland method, and beside it costs so much less.

There are two stories about the conference of the operators and miners, one that agreement will be reached January 18 and the other that a strike next spring is likely. Anyhow, the strike story should be kept going, as a stimulus to the market during the weeks immediately prior to April 1.

Judge Wilkerson will on May 2 hear final argument on the motion to dissolve the injunction issued in the railway strike last September. So fickle is the public mind that most people had forgotten all about the strike and had no thought that legal affairs concerning it continue on the court calendar.

Up in Beech Grove, Ind., an "Association of Employees" railroad workers, has been organized. The plan is to base wages upon the amount of work actually accomplished rather than upon the hours of labor. Thus far the plan has worked out so successfully that the members of the organization have received large wage increases.

One thing that makes for harmonious effort is the fact that they are at work under 12 general rules instead of the 186 outlined by the railroad wage board.

There is no doubt but that important phases of city development will have the consideration of the Jacksonville city plan commission. With Dr. C. H. Rammelkamp as the chairman of the commission and taking into account the membership the people will feel confident that no program of work will be suggested that has not had painstaking consideration and that does not promise development along forward lines.

THE REAL YOU. NEA.

Some of us have our music in our souls instead of in our voices, says David Gibson, dean of business writers. So in the last analysis, we're all great singers. All we lack is the power of expression—a certain mechanical arrangement of flesh in the throat.

The real you is revealed in what you like and appreciate, rather than what you can do. We're all singers, we're all dancers, we're all artists.

Maybe we cannot paint a picture. But our souls have the artistic sense—the desire to paint also appreciation of art when we view it at the museum. Flattering to the vanity, but true.

All of us are inwardly clever, artistic, shrewd, wise and good. But only a few of us can express what we feel. The rest "can't get it out." It's like a cork in a bottle. You are reminded of this when a friend, with a voice like filing a saw, tries to convey to you a melody he has heard and which he is carrying in his soul. He has the message, all right, but he can't get it across.

Wisdom resides in every soul. So-called knowledge and education merely are spades with which we uncover our hidden wisdom. The uncovering, we call "developing." But the real power is there all the time, latent, dormant, otherwise there wouldn't be anything to develop.

We all have evil streaks in our make-up. The people we call good are the ones with the ability to keep their evil natures suppressed—locked up. Others haven't yet found the key, so the evil runs at large.

Good lies buried, dormant, in our make-up, same as evil.

It also has to be uncovered (developed). A more difficult job in some cases than others.

Often it takes a heavy blow—sorrow or misfortune—to bring out our better lives, our inner emotions. And sometimes the same sorrow or misfortune sets loose the evil nature instead of the good. The qualities, good or bad, were there all the time waiting to be brought forth.

Theoretically you may disagree with some of this reasoning. But you cannot disagree with the great truth lurking in the background. That truth is this: In the make-up of nearly every human there lie buried tremendous powers and marvelous abilities. To bring these out is the problem of life, of success, of happiness, of destiny.

The real you is a vast storehouse of treasures, waiting to be opened.

BERTON BRALEY'S DADLY POEM

THE HUMORISTS

By Berton Braley

THEY have no awe of anything. Their barbs satirical they fling At fake and solemn-faced pretense; And with a blithe irreverence, And laughing antics of a clown, They topple pompous idols down.

AN ugly evil rears its head, A thing of mystery and dread; The humorists make jests about it, With jape and gibe and quip they flout it, And presently away it wriggles, Pursued by universal giggles.

THE dragons, menacing and foul, That most majestically prowled About our land; whose very breath Scarred serious-minded folks to death, Sneak to their caves, devoid of vigor, When humorists begin to snigger.

HOW shall we estimate their worth Who smash chimeras with their mirth; Who vanquish ills to which we truckle, With no more weapon than a chuckle? Here's to them, may they never wane! They make us laugh—and keep us sane!

PROBATE COURT ORDER.

In the estate of J. C. Gillham, petition for the probate of the will was filed and hearing set for February 5.

The petition of Miss Marie T. Prince for the probate of the will of John W. Prince was filed and the hearing fixed for February 5.

The will of Mr. Prince was made November, 1912. It was provided that all of his property should be divided between his sisters, Misses Caroline and Marie T. Prince, or the survivor of them. The two sisters or the survivor were named to execute the will.

The signature of Mr. Prince was witnessed by H. J. Brook and Owen Scott.

The final report of Thomas Irlam as administrator of the estate of J. W. Irlam was filed and approved.

The report of J. I. Graham as guardian of Ralph Shaw was approved.

In the estate of Eliza McDonald petition was filed by J. Marshall Miller asking that deidimus potestatem issue for the affidavit of Miss Tillie Hargrove, one of the witnesses to the will, who is now resident in Philadelphia.

In the estate of Thomas Bond, the inventory was filed.

The final report of Miss Katherine Kaiser as executrix of the estate of Mrs. Margaret Colwell was filed and approved. This report showed distribution of receipts amounting to $23,641.

In the estate of H. M. Hopkins, the will was admitted to probate, with letters to issue to Mrs. Henrietta Hopkins.

The report of J. S. Tendick as executor of the estate of Mrs. Sabilla Tendick was approved, showing distribution of $8,943.38.

In the estate of W. A. McGinnis the petition was filed asking for authority to replace a lost will. The petition as filed by Frances McGinnis, sister of the deceased, shows that she and her brother made wills at the same time in 1893, and that subsequently the wills were re-read in the office of J. Marshall Miller and filed in the bank for safe keeping. By some means the will of Mr. McGinnis has been misplaced and cannot be located. A duplicate, however, is in existence and the petitioner indicates that no one other than herself is interested in the estate.

TWO PLEAD GUILTY TO LIQUOR SELLING

In the county court yesterday J. I. Jacobson entered a plea of guilty to the charge of selling liquor and was assessed $100 fine and sent to jail for 45 days. It was the court's original intention to give Jacobson a 30 day jail sentence but his demeanor was such that the additional 15 days were drawn.

George Harrington of McCarty station neighborhood, also entered a plea of guilty to the manufacture and sale of liquor. Judge Samuel imposed a fine of $300 and costs. The defendants in these two cases were arrested on information filed by State's Attorney Robinson.

YOUNG YALE STUDENT DROWNS WHEN CAR SKID

Cortland Van Camp Met Tragic Death at Midnight Hour—Mother Well Known in Jacksonville.

An Indianapolis paper of recent date gives the particulars of the tragic death of Cortland Van Camp III. This news story has local interest from the fact that the young man was a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Van Camp and Mrs. Van Camp before her marriage was Miss Lillian Olney of Clinton, who some years ago was a frequent guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith of West College avenue.

Young Van Camp was drowned in Fall Creek near Indianapolis about midnight one night recently when the large enclosed car he was driving left the road and plunged over a concrete wall into the creek. The young man had attended a party at the friends of the family, when the accident happened. It was raining and the roads were slippery, a fact which evidently caused the automobile to skid and Van Camp to lose control.

The automobile was found standing upright in the creek. The top was not submerged and it is believed that Van Camp would have escaped had he not been caught behind the steering wheel and rendered unconscious. He was severely cut by the glass from the windshield, the artery of one wrist being severed.

Young Van Camp last year attended Hill's School for Boys at Pottstown, Pa., where he made a splendid record both in athletics and in his studies. The work there was in preparation for Yale and he was a freshman in the university this year. Just two weeks ago he returned to his home for the Christmas vacation and was to have returned to the east a few days after the sad accident which resulted in his untimely death.

WITH THE SICK

Ira Dugger was able to return to his home in White Hall yesterday after having been a patient at Passavant hospital where he recently underwent an operation.

Milton Wahl of Shurtleff College, who fills the pulpit of the M. E. church of Kane, Illinois, was a guest yesterday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Riley on North Church street.

GRIFFITH FUNERAL IS HELD AT SPRINGFIELD

Dr. J. R. Harker Assists in Services at First Presbyterian Church Saturday Afternoon—Many Relatives and Friends Attended.

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Griffith, mother of Mrs. T. J. Pitner, were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church in Springfield. They were conducted by Rev. T. Thomas, assisted by Dr. J. R. Harker of this city. Music was furnished by the regular choir of the church.

The flowers were cared for by the Misses Dossie and Marion Brinkerhoff, Della Wiseman and Nellie Hentzenway. The pall bearers were: Dr. E. F. Hazell, J. H. Brinkerhoff, Dr. S. E. Munson, L. R. Diller, L. S. Miller and Stuart Brown. Interment was in Oak Ridge cemetery. A large audience of friends and relatives attended the services.

Mrs. T. J. Pitner, who came to Springfield to attend the funeral, will come to this city for a few days next week, after which she will return to her winter home at Deland, Florida.

GADDIS LAND

A tract of land belonging to the estate of the late James T. Gaddis was sold by Master in Chancery Henry W. English at the court house Saturday. The tract comprises 125 acres located one and a half miles east of Concord.

The land was purchased by Edward Anderson, who lives in that locality, at a price of $130 an acre. The farm is well improved about 70 acres being level, flat land and the rest quite rolling. Morie Beddingfield was the auctioneer.

HERE FROM DECATUR.

Herbert J. Henderson came to Jacksonville Saturday night from Decatur to spend Sunday with his mother. Mr. Henderson accompanied C. L. DePew, who drove thru from Macon county. Mr. DePew was caught in the blinding snow storm Friday night near Monticello. It was impossible to see and the car slipped from the hard road into a ditch. After a futile effort to get the car back into the highway Mr. DePew was compelled to spend the night in a nearby farm house.

WILL TALK ABOUT NEXT GIFT CAMPAIGN

Members of the commercial division of the Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday morning. A considerable amount of business relative to the recent successful gift campaign is to be transacted. In addition there will be discussion of plans for the future. It has been intimated that the purpose is to stage another gift campaign in the course of the next eight or nine months on a larger scale than that which has just come to a close.

The Problem of the ages brought down to modern times; story based on Ohnet's celebrated novel, "Doctor Rameau," by the creator of "Over the Hill and played by a notable cast—

SEE

"My Friend the Devil"

The theme of the photoplay deals with the spectacle of a man who has lost faith in a higher being. When little more than a child he prayed that his cruel stepfather be killed and at that very moment his mother, whom he loved above all things, was struck by lightning.

The years passed and the man became a famous surgeon and he had faith in only one thing—the power of science and learning. How he finally is forced to acknowledge himself a believer provides a powerful theme and brings a climax that is both thrilling and satisfying.

DR. GRIFFITH SPEAKS ON PSYCHO-ANALYSIS

Tells University Women Mind Has Towers and Dungeons—Explores Freudian Fad.

That the greatest good brought about by psycho-analysis will be a tendency of parents, educators and students to build up the powers of the developing mind in a more logical fashion, thus making psycho-analysis itself less needed was the conclusion of C. R. Griffith, Ph. D., acting head of the department of psychology at Illinois University, in a talk Saturday afternoon at Academy Hall before the Jacksonville branch of the American Association of University Women.

Dr. Griffith likened the mind to a mediaeval castle, of which the bed rock foundation was the nervous system, the building stones the experiences of the mind, the social rooms the commoner ideas of the mind, the towers the groups of ideas that we build up as a superstructure above the mass of our minds, and the dungeons and their prisoners the so-called subconscious mind.

The cunning attempts of these imprisoned ideas to escape and make trouble for those in control of the upper rooms of the mind he defined as the psycho-analyst's conception of mental disturbances. The isolation of the towers of ideas, whether of ambition, hopes, anticipations or fears, from the central structure of the mind and hence the separation of one tower from connection with other towers, constitutes dual personality, or unified mind-building, he said.

A proper development or building of the mind, he said, would avoid shutting off the lower rooms and hiding there secret imprisoned ideas and emotions, as well as avoiding unconnected towers of high, but unrelated thought.

The task of the psycho-analyst physician, he said, lies in finding a key that will make possible a mental housecleaning. A person with a secret fear can conquer that fear best by finding out what causes it, what concrete experience is responsible, and giving that idea a chance to expand its energy in escaping, or expression. Attacks Freudians

The Freudian cult was attacked by the speaker from two angles. First, he said that all the phenomena that the disciples of Freud attribute to a vague idea-energy called the subconscious mind, can be explained on the scientific basis of the nervous system. A given nerve connection, established in youth, remains ready, though not called upon for years, to act as it acted before.

The second attack upon the extreme Freudians was placed upon their obsession with sex-complicities. Their attitude, the speaker said, seems to invite further pandering to sex by a sex-mad generation. If these matters were not so mysteriously covered up by convention, it would probably be found that a frank knowledge of the problem would prove it of less sweeping importance than at present thought, was Dr. Griffith's opinion.

At the next meeting of the University Women, on Friday, February 16, Miss Elizabeth A. Drew, Oxford and Cambridge scholar, Head of the Woman's Staff of the department of education of the British army on the Rhine, and prominent writer, will speak on "The Trend of Modern Drama."

LONDON FOGS INCREASE MORTALITY RATES

London. — The recent fogs which have prevailed in and around London are responsible not only for a greatly increased expenditure for lighting, but have caused more than the usual amount of sickness and suffering to the population.

This is set forth by medical experts, who quote statistics to show that for the week ended November 25 the death rate in London was 14.3 per 1,000 against a death rate for the whole of England and Wales of 12.6 per 1,000. Deaths from bronchitis and broncho-pneumonia rose to 238 from the previous week's figure of 182. This rise, which is principally among children, is ascribed to weather conditions, to the darkness and irritation of the London fogs.

NOTED GOLF OFFICIAL TO ADDRESS MEETING

The annual meeting of the local Municipal Golf Association will be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms next Thursday evening. Robert W. McKinlay, president of the Cook County Municipal Golf Association and a member of the board of commissioners of Cook county, will be the speaker.

Important reports are to be made to the association by the various officials, and the winners of the twelve matches held during 1922 will be announced. The association is closing one of the most profitable and important years in its history.

The program, however will center about the address of Mr. McKinlay, who is known as an authority on municipal links and association work. He has held the presidency of the Cook County Municipal Golf Association since its organization in 1919. He is a member of the Public Links Committee of the United States Golf Association, and was instrumental in promoting the first Public Links Championship Tournament, which was held at Toledo, Ohio in August.

WITNESSES SAY
MEN WERE PUT TO

Believed to have been a vice-like contrivance, which broke their bones at equal distant intervals and that the body of Daniel showed a revolting operation performed before he was put to death.
Mob is Described
Two witnesses, J. L. Daniel, father of Watt and W. C. Andrews described the mob which halted the party enroute from Bastrop to their home from Mor Rouge on the evening of August 24, last, as black-hooded.
Both Daniel a man nearly 70 years old and Andrews, 25, declared they were flogged by the raiders. Andrews testified he was beaten until he was numb. The elder man declared he was not given more than four or five blows.
For the first time during the inquiry which began yesterday reference was made to the "klan." "I believe it was some members of the klan, may be not the action of the klan as an organization, but some members of the klan," Andrews said. He said he could not name any man whom he suspected of being implicated.
The testimony of the two men was along much the same lines. They declared they were returning from Bastrop where they attended a barbecue and baseball game and were halted by a automobile parked across the road. "We were stopped at a crossroad," Andrews testified, "by a crowd of men—15 or 20—who wore black hoods. One came to the car in which I was riding covered me with a gun and ordered me to the road. I was blindfolded with a handkerchief, my hands were tied and I was taken to the side of the road. Soon after the elder Daniel was taken prisoner and seated beside me. I heard a voice which I recognized as that of Watt Daniel saying 'wait a minute, don't be so fast.'

"Then I was questioned as to an attempt which had been made to assassinate Dr. McKoin. I told them I knew nothing of it, that it was in another part of the parish at the time.
"They said they knew I had something to do with it and were going to whip me to make me tell."

CHANGE IN POLICY OF FRANCE SEEMS

Its own line of approach, apparently, is preparing for new attempts to substitute business diplomacy for international government exchanges in working out a new proposal on reparations.
Officials of the chamber of commerce of the United States it was learned today are considering renewing their activities to that end, halted temporarily while the statesmen debated and agreed to disagree in Paris.
Foreign Affairs Committee.
The foreign affairs committee of the chamber will meet here January 12, at the call of President Barnes, and will attend a dinner given by Mr. Barnes in honor of Albert Thomas of France, director of the International labor office at Geneva. That the reparations crisis will be the foremost topic of discussion is not doubted. What immediate plans may result officials of the chamber do not care to predict, but in Mr. Thomas there will be available an immediate channel of communications with French and other European business groups.
Among members of the chamber foreign affairs committee is A. C. Bedford of New York, an official of the Standard Oil company and chairman of the American delegation to the second general meeting of the international chamber of commerce which will be held in Rome, March 18 to 24. The preliminary program for that meeting carries a statement signed by Mr. Bedford which is at least illustrative of American business thought. It reads:
"Believing that the time has now come when business men should assert the right based upon their knowledge and experience and their interest to come forward and state in no uncertain terms that the vital problems now so seriously disturbing the peace and prosperity of the world shall be settled upon sound economic principles—principles which will promote the peace and welfare of mankind rather than the popularity of individuals or political parties—leading business men throughout the world will meet at Rome for the purpose of discussing frankly and seriously some of the most pressing issues."

WINCHESTER LOSES
GAME TO MEREDOSIA

Basketball Game Saturday Night Brought Defeat to Winchester Boys—Other Winchester News.
Winchester, Jan. 6.—A basketball game played here Saturday night between the Winchester community high team and the Meredosia high school team ended with a score of 32 to 12 in favor of the visitors. Four of the regulars were out of the Winchester team and the result was a badly crippled team. The Meredosia boys had the best of the Winchester team from the very beginning and altho the local boys put up a hard fight they were unable to cope with their opponents.
The local boys will play the Rushville team here next Saturday and an interesting game is anticipated.
The lineup of the contending teams Saturday night is given:
Winchester: R. Lashmet, f. (4 points); Tankersley, f. (4 points); King, g. (2 points); Watt, g. (substitutes: Polan, Miner, (2 points); Roosa.
Meredosia: Walsh, f. (12 points); Hyde, f. (10 points); Nortrup, c. (10 points); Skinner, g. Yeakel, g. Bushnell, substitute.
Referee—Harmon of Illinois college.
News Notes.
Mrs. H. H. Fletcher entertained a number of young ladies at her home on South Main street Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. In honor of her niece, Mrs. Evertson McLaughlin, and Mrs. Everett Gibbs. Games afforded the amusement of the afternoon and delicious refreshments were served before the guests departed.
Mr. and Mrs. Ben Johnson are in Rockbridge to attend the funeral of the former's father, which will be held there Sunday afternoon.

LEGISLATION ON FARM CREDITS TO BE REPORTED OUT

Senate Banking Committee Plans Such Action Monday
(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—Pending farm credits legislation is to be reported out of the senate banking committee probably on Monday under plans made today for final redrafting of the Capper and Lenroot-Anderson bills.
The latter providing for government aid by federal subscription of $60,000,000 in stock for 12 credit departments under the federal land bank system was completed by the committee.
An amendment by Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin, would authorize doubling of stock with approval of the president.
Other provisions of the Lenroot-Anderson measure were not changed in principal.
Senate debate on the farm credits legislation is to begin early next week with the administration shipping bill temporarily displaced.

PRELIMINARY WORK WILL BE COMPLETED

Justifiable action of the state canvassing board of depriving Norman H. MacPherson of his election," was presented by Senator Denvir, of Chicago.
The resolution and the action of Senator Denvir was declared out of order by Senator John Dailey of Peoria, who pointed out that the senate had not been sworn and therefore no action could be taken.
The point of order was sustained by Lieutenant Governor Sterling.
Election returns in Chicago gave MacPherson the office, but the canvassing board of which Governor Small is chairman later threw out the returns from one precinct, and declared Marks elected.
Senator Marks drew his pay check among the first here Wednesday.
State Treasurer Oscar G. Nelson and Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis G. Blair were sworn into office here Thursday.
Jackson Day Banquet.
Without a definite program in sight for the legislators during the coming week, preparations were being made by many to attend the Democratic Jackson Day banquet to be held here Monday night at 6 o'clock in the St. Nicholas hotel when persons prominent in the party, from state and national grade down to county officers, will be present to hear United States Senator-Elect Samuel Ralston of Indianapolis speak.
Hon. Robert M. Sweitzer of Chicago will be toastmaster while the introductory remarks for the evening program will be made by Thomas F. Donovan, Joliet, chairman of the Democratic state central committee.
Reservations numbering close to one thousand have been made, and additional places are set aside for the late arrivals.
Women will take their part in the program being represented by Mrs. A. E. Bergland, Galva, who is chairman of the Democratic women's state organization, and Mrs. Bernice S. Pike, of Cleveland, national committee woman from Ohio.
Others who will be heard include Peter A. Walker of Kewanee, chairman of the advisory committee of 19 and S. S. Preston of Gillespie, editor of the Gillespie News.
Messages from Democrats prominent in state and national affairs will be read during the banquet, which has taken on national significance, Democrats declare due to the political complexion in this state and in Indiana.
Among those to be seated at the speaker's table together with others who have made reservations are:
Judge William Farmer, Vandalia; Former Governor Edward F. Dunne, Chicago; Former Congressman James M. Graham, this city; Congressman Henry T. Rainey, Carrollton; Judge Thomas Jett, Hillsboro; also a former congressman; Judge Louis Fitz-Henry, Bloomington; James A. Meeks, Danville; Judge Floyd L. Thompson, Rock Island; John P. Devine, Dixon, minority floor leader; Senator John P. Genvy, Chicago; Former Congressman B. F. Caldwell, Chatham; Congressman J. Earl Major, Hillsboro; Judge Norman L. Jones, of the Illinois Appellate court, Carrollton; Mrs. Howard T. Willson, Virden; Carter H. Harrison, Chicago's former mayor; William L. O'Connell and George E. Brennan, both of Chicago.
Senator-Elect Ralston upon his arrival here will be escorted to Lincoln's tomb by a local committee headed by V. Y. Dallman, who is secretary of the banquet arrangements committee.
The Jackson Day banquet is held in commemoration of the battle of New Orleans and is nationally observed by the Democratic party.

PRESIDENT HARDING IS CONCERNED OVER
EUROPEAN AFFAIRS

Senator-Elect Fess Tells National Republican Club
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—President Harding is deeply concerned over the grave turn of events in Europe from the collapse of the conference of premiers in Paris, Senator-Elect Simon D. Fess of Ohio, told the National Republican club today, at a discussion of present foreign policy.
His address was interpreted by many as an intimate revelation of the administration's position in the critical period particularly an assertion that "we should not foster the calling of an economic conference."
"We thought a commission of experts to pass on the facts in relation to reparations might be welcome," he said, "but the suggestion was not welcome and seemed to me the door is now closed."
"Therefore what we may now do is not very encouraging."
Senator Fess drew the fire of Henry Morgenthau, former ambassador to Turkey, when he said: "We believe that the financing of Europe should not be done by any action of the government, but by American business."
Speaking as a Democrat, Mr. Morgenthau termed the proposed non-official reparations commission a "deliberate attempt by the Republican administration to pass the buck at this critical period in the world's affairs to the business men of America."
Mr. Morgenthau spoke frankly to the Republicans in defense of former President Wilson's policy. He predicted his party would return to power in two years and would find a way to participate actively in European affairs.

NEGRO PRISONER KILLED IN ATTEMPTED ESCAPE

(By The Associated Press)
MUSKOGEE, Okla., Jan. 6.—W. M. "Boodles" Ragsdale, wealthy Muskogee negro and proprietor of a local undertaking establishment was shot and killed this afternoon when he attempted to escape while being taken to Sapulpa by officers on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of a policeman and the wounding of four others there last week. Ragsdale was arrested here last night and held in the city jail, being secretly removed this morning in the hope of getting him to Sapulpa without the public there learning of the arrest.

EVIDENCE FOR SHERIFF

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 6.—Sheriff Ora Lemon of Sangamon county recently announced he was unable to find any evidence of bootlegging in the city. Six citizens set forth to collect evidence. They presented it to the sheriff today in the form of eleven warrants for the arrest of the proprietors of four drug stores and seven soft drink parlors. One of the druggists operates a large downtown store. The defendants gave $500 bond for their appearance January 16.
The self appointed committee of six said they had been at work for a week quietly buying liquors in many places about the city.

ECHO OF RIOTS
CAME YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press)
MARION, Jan. 6.—An echo of the killing of 23 men in the Herrin riots came today when the first coal mined since the tragedy last June poured down the Red clay embankments into waiting cars.
Amidst charred fragments of the burned mine office and a sight of the twisted, rust covered remains of three switch engines wrecked by the mob groups of miners went unconcerned about their tasks. From between two great mounds of earth a monster steam shovel used to uncover the coal poured tons of red clay on the spot where the non-union workers had surrendered on June 22 and from which 20 had been led to their deaths.
After months consumed in repairing the wreckage wrought during the riots the mine then the property of the Southern Illinois Coal company but now known as the Caloric Coal company, was again in full operation little remaining to tell of the tragedy of last June.
PEORIA MAN FOUND DEAD
Peoria, Ill., Jan. 6.—Willis Evans, 51, one of the most prominent and popular men in public affairs in this city, and for ten years executive secretary of the association of commerce was found dead in his home here this morning by his wife. Death is attributed to heart disease, which has confined Mr. Evans to his home for several months.
Mr. Evans was former managing editor of the Herald-Transcript and was connected with nearly every representative organization in the city. Funeral arrangements have not been made.
The smallest screws are those made for watches. An ordinary thimble would contain 100,000 of some sizes.

SOLDIERS PLACED ON GUARD AT GRAVE OF
SEAMAN JAMES JONES

Coffin Thought to Contain Russian Crown Jewels
(By The Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—A detachment of soldiers from Fort Hamilton Reservation tonight was ordered by Major General Bullard to Cypress Hills Cemetery to guard the grave of Seaman James Jones, in whose coffin $4,000,000 worth of the crown jewels of the Romanoff dynasty are reported to have been hidden by smugglers.
The soldiers were detailed under orders issued from Governor's Island, which directed Col. E. H. Wagner of the Ft. Hamilton Reservation to maintain the guard "until further notice."
Soldiers of the Eighteenth Infantry, many of them world war veterans, were assigned to the job under sealed orders.
Colonel Wagner professed ignorance of what was back of the guard order saying all he knew was that the troops were to keep away all unofficial visitors.

NO STRIKE NEXT SPRING-FARRINGTON

(By The Associated Press)
WEST FRANKFORT, Ill., Jan. 6.—Assurance that there would not be a coal miners' strike next spring was expressed by Frank Farrington, president of the Illinois mine workers, in a telegram this afternoon to Lon Fox, president of the West Frankfort sub-district.
Mr. Farrington's telegram stated that while the conference of operators and union officials failed in Chicago he had every reason to believe that agreements satisfactory to the miners could be reached at further conferences and advised the miners to remain "calm." There is no cause for alarm as a result of the failure of the Chicago conference, the telegram added and indications are that a favorable agreement might be reached at the forthcoming conferences in New York.

RUINED WALLS ARE COMPARATIVELY SAFE

East Wall of Strawn Building Is Especially Strong—High Wind Might Cause Damage, Tho
The walls of the Strawn and Kirby buildings, which were burned out in the recent fire, are practically safe, according to a statement of John Wolke, contractor, made Saturday evening. The east wall of the Strawn building is especially strong and will stand permanently unless distributed or perhaps rocked by a strong wind.
The other walls are more dangerous, tho they seem in no immediate danger of falling. However, the entire group of standing walls should be wrecked, it is said in order that this section of the business district should be absolutely safe.
It is understood that insurance companies have not encouraged owners to wreck the walls until the loss is entirely adjusted. Nothing along this line is contemplated for the present. The walls, if they are safe in their present condition, are very valuable and might be used to advantage in rebuilding. It would cost thousands of dollars to reconstruct these walls. However, as the walls have already been condemned by the city, it is probable that they will be wrecked, unless it is planned to use them in the reconstruction. A high wind might cause heavy damage if coming from the south or north. A north wind could wreck the south walls and damage the buildings to the rear without much difficulty.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION
BLOWS OFF MOUNTAIN TOP

Anchorage, Alaska, Jan. 6.—The top of Pavlov mountain, Aleutian peninsula has been blown off by a volcanic eruption, according to wireless messages received here which said the volcano had become active lighting up the sky for many miles with the glow from the crater reflected by snow topped peaks. The severe earthquake shock felt in this section December 30, is believed to have resulted from the activity of this volcano.
J. A. Moss, L. C. Moss and Mr. 2nd Mrs. Christopher Hoover were Joy Prairie people in the city yesterday.

L. W. C. Society Gives Luncheon Yesterday.
The monthly luncheon of the Jacksonville Society of the Women's College Alumnae association was held Saturday in the blue room of the Peacock Inn. Luncheon was served at twelve fifteen o'clock and covers were laid for about thirty five former students and alumnae of the college. During the luncheon hour there was an informal business meeting presided over by Mrs. Irma Elliott Johnson. Plans of activity for the society during the months before commencement were discussed. Among out of town alumnae who were present at the luncheon were Miss Vera Wardner, of Winchester; Mrs. Velma Bain, of Franklin; and Mrs. Roy Nichol, of Concord.

Booster Club of Cloverleaf Holds Banquet and Meeting.
The Booster Club of the Cloverleaf company held the first meeting of the year last evening in the club rooms on East State street. The affair was a banquet served at six thirty o'clock and followed by a program. Dinner covers were laid for about fifty guests and attractive New Year favors were used at each place.

House Party at Fitzgerald Home.
M. E. Fitzgerald, 823 East State street, was host at a house party Friday night. William Wagner, Robert Wallace, Albert Gerbert and Matthew McKavitt being the guests.

Hostesses to Aid Society.
Mrs. John T. Roach and Mrs. James McBride will be hostesses to the Catholic Ladies Aid Society, at the R. of C. hall Wednesday, Jan. 10, at which time plans will be made for an entertainment to be given Jan. 18.

Bridge Party at Cully Home.
A delightful bridge party was given Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Franklin C. Knack of Washington, D. C. Mrs. C. W. Cully and Mrs. Homer Cully being the joint hostesses. The party was given at the home of the former, 1520 Mound avenue. Four tables were made up and the playing began at 2:30.

During the afternoon an attractive luncheon was served.
Mrs. Knack was formerly Miss Ruby Cully and is spending the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Cully, of 806 West College avenue. Mr. Fredrick Buck, Jr., of Springfield, and Mrs. Loren Sackett of Morris, Ill., were the out of town guests.

Club. Miss Grace Cook responded to a toast with "What the Booster Club Can Do in the Future." The topic of Mrs. Freda Harber's talk was "The Advantages of the Cloverleaf as Compared With Other Offices," and Miss Theresa Boylan gave "My First Impressions of the Cloverleaf."

Following the program of toasts there was an informal musical program. The Booster club has recently purchased a new piano in which it had been used. Miss Lydia Hunt sang a group of songs and Miss Faye Kinner played a number of piano solos. Miss Frances Alkire had been asked to read and gave a group of very delightful selections.

The serving of the banquet was in charge of the refreshment committee of the club which includes Mrs. M. E. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Helen Corson and Mrs. A. P. Riemann. Miss Irene Gustafson was the chairman of the program committee and she was assisted by Miss Augusta Benefield and Miss Goldie Elliott.

A number of young women who were formerly at the Cloverleaf office had been invited as guests. These include Mrs. Harvey Sanders, Mrs. Albert Yorking, Mrs. Charles Funway, Mrs. Robert Hembrough and Mrs. Otis Haney.

WOMAN DIED OF SKULL FRACTURE
Chicago, Jan. 5.—A post mortem examination of the body of Mrs. Emma Broz, exhumed on order of the coroner after he had received an anonymous letter asking why she had been buried with gloves on and why her face was bruised and swollen, today revealed that she died of a compound fracture of the skull instead of spinal meningitis, as stated in the doctor's certificate signed by Doctors Chester Moe and J. F. Jaros, the latter a cousin of the woman. Deputy Coroner Charles Kennedy immediately swore in a jury to hold an inquest.

HEIMLICH AGAIN DIRECTOR
The annual meeting was held Thursday evening at the Elks club rooms. C. P. Scott presiding. The election report showed that Mr. Scott was again re-elected as president. Mr. Hale as vice president and A. L. Smith secretary. The board of directors chosen included O. L. McCord, D. T. Heimlich, F. S. Tarbill and Lyle Funk. The Illinois branch of the R. I. Red club of America held their meeting the afternoon of the 4th. D. T. Heimlich is the president. George Stambau, vice president and P. S. Tarbill secretary, this Illinois branch having the largest membership of any of the states.

The R. I. Red club of America has more than 55,000 members, the largest membership of any such club in the U. S.

Paul Hurley of Cincinnati, representative of the B. & O. railroad, was present and told of the B. & O. club work and exhibits made by the boys and girls. There were clubs organized in the fourteen Illinois counties thru which the B. & O. runs, and over $5,000 was spent last year for the work in this state. Last year eggs from Plymouth White Rocks and also stock were distributed by the county agents. This year after getting an expression from the poultry department of the State university and from farm agents, the B. & O. will distribute 5,000 S. C. Rhode Island Red eggs to the boys and girls clubs. These eggs will be purchased from reliable breeders of the Reds with certain guarantees. This enterprise of the B. & O. is certainly laudable and the work done in the past gives ample proof of the benefits.

MANY EXHIBITS AT STATE POULTRY MEET

Progress in Industry During Past Year Shown—B. & O. Club Work Helps in Fourteen Counties.

The 29th annual exhibition of the Illinois State Poultry association was held at Danville, January 3-6. This organization is given $1,000 annually by the state, and the annual exhibit is given to the highest bidder among cities where the poultry industry is recognized as a great local commercial factor, as well as giving rise to educational interest. D. T. Heimlich of this city attended and was one of the judges.

It is as an educational feature that all poultry exhibits are held. The state show is free to thousands who visit it or as exhibitors bring in one or more of the hundred and fifty recognized standard varieties of fowls to compete for prizes in friendly rivalry for honors and the cash offered.

The officers of the association are all long and well tried men of experience. The president, C. P. Scott of Peoria, is also chief poultryman for the state agricultural department. Under his care the two egg laying contests are being carried on at Quincy and Murphysboro, Illinois. The vice president is D. E. Hale of Chicago, former editor of the Reliable and Poultry Tribune poultry journals.

A. B. Smith, secretary of Quincy, is recognized by the poultry fraternity thruout the U. S. as the most efficient and hard working manager in his efforts to secure good results. The directors, J. A. Leland, F. S. Tarbill, O. L. McCord, Lyle Funk and D. T. Heimlich, have been prominent in the poultry industry for many years. All of these men have been for years holding responsible positions as judges and officers in this and other associations.

Give State Support
Thru the friendly support of Gov. Small and B. M. Davidson, head of the state agricultural department, and the support of Otis Arnold, member of the house from the 15th district, as well as other members of the house and senate, Illinois has been put on the map as the greatest poultry and egg producing state in the union.

In addition to these men there are members in every one of the 255 congressional districts of the state to boost for Illinois in this department, as well as in any other that will help keep the state working progressively for poultry culture.

The judging of this exhibit of over 1600 specimens of fowl and pet stock was done by O. L. McCord, George Heyl, Jerome Leland, W. G. Warnock, F. S. Tarbill, P. M. Ballard, and D. T. Heimlich, and H. C. Dipples of Indianapolis, Ind.

The $50 silver cup given by Gov. Small was won by C. P. Scott of Peoria on his 40 head of S. C. R. I. Reds, and the other 148 shown in the Red classes with his winnings gave him over 400 points more than the next highest exhibit, that of Buff Orpingtons. The leading classes were all represented in large numbers. There were cups offered by Hon. Otis Arnold, O. L. McCord, C. P. Scott and A. D. Smith, and $40 in cash by the Illinois branch of the Rhode Island Red club of America.

Communist Folly
The recent communistic experiment in Russia is another illustration of the folly of seeking progress by revolution rather than by evolution. I will read for you an editorial from the Chicago Tribune.

"The tragic ironies of the Communist fiasco seem endless. The latest is the appeal of the soviet government for foreign medical men to combat the plague which has appeared at Batum. Moscow says there is a serious shortage of doctors in Russia."

"Why? Because the Red dictatorship murdered nearly 9,000 Russian medical men."

"That is the story of the Communist revolution in a nutshell. Lenin and his associates would tolerate no dissent of opinion. Their method with dissent was destruction. Communist fanatics wished to destroy all the educated on the theory that education was an unjust privilege. They demanded absolute equality even in ignorance. So they either wiped out the class whose knowledge was essential to the reconstruction of Russia, or compelled its members to flee the country—doctors, scientists, teachers, engineers, experienced directors of industry."

"Then followed months of futile experiment, confusion, deterioration, and finally a vast famine. That has compelled even the bigotry of the dictatorship to give way. The New Economic Policy appeared. Expert directorship and capitalism were brought back by degrees. The latest is an appeal for doctors."

LOOKING FORWARD IN AMERICAN LIFE

Rev. F. B. Madden Discusses Some Problems and Tendencies—Berries Strikes as Useless—Takes Rap at Ku Klux Klan.

In addressing the Rotary club at Clinton recently Rev. F. B. Madden formerly of this city discussed some of the present day problems of society in a very frank way. The entire address was published in the Clinton Daily Public. Mr. Madden evidently continues a man of convictions who is not afraid to voice them. Here are some paragraphs from the address:

Judging the future by the past, the New Year will be what we make it. I am an enthusiastic believer of Oliver Goldsmith's philosophy:

"How small of all that human hearts endure
That part which laws or Kings can cause or cure—
Still to ourselves in every place consigned."

Our own felicity we make or find. Environment affects the good of condition, but we ourselves determine the good of character.

As we enter upon the New Year what are some of the things in our national life that we, as patriotic Rotarians, should seek to sluff off and what are some of the ideals we should try to build into the life of the nation?

We must not be afraid of the future. The past is gone. We should keep our eyes in front and our faces to the future. This was Lowell's doctrine:

"New occasions teach new duties; time
Makes ancient good uncouth;
They must upward still and onward,
Who would keep abreast of Truth; we Ourselves must pilgrims be,
Launch our Mayflower, and steer boldly
Thru the desperate winter sea,
Nor attempt the Future's portal with
The Past's blood-rusted key."

Change Not Calamity
Change is not calamity, but a condition of progress. Change is growth, and if this principle cease then life in both state and church will dwindle and decay. Without change history need not be written, there would be nothing worth recording. Rotarians should be in the van of progress. Ours is a day of notable transition.

During the last half of the nineteenth century, three great forces—literary criticism, physical science and democracy—came to their own. Creeds, political, scientific sociological and religious, are changing. With regret we part with the "ancient good" made uncouth by "time." With apprehension, but also with courage, we step upon the untrodden track of tomorrow.

Progress comes by evolution, not by revolution. The saying that "civilization moves forward on a powder keg" is false. T. N. T. may remove obstructions, but never builds. Destruction is not a principle of growth in any province of the universe. Nature progresses by evolution, not by catastrophe; so, too, does civilization.

The history of strikes and lock-outs is illustration. Governor Allen of Kansas says that there have been 25,000 strikes in the United States in the last three years. They have affected millions of our citizens. The cost, which has been a sheer waste, would have purchased and paid for a home for every striker. Ninety per cent have failed of the purpose for which they were called. Less than ten per cent of the so-called "successful strikes" produced enough from the victory to pay back the laboring men what it cost them to strike. This does not include the cost to capital and to the public. Surely a less expensive and more successful method of progress than a "powder keg" can be found for all concerned.

Communist Folly
The recent communistic experiment in Russia is another illustration of the folly of seeking progress by revolution rather than by evolution. I will read for you an editorial from the Chicago Tribune.

"The tragic ironies of the Communist fiasco seem endless. The latest is the appeal of the soviet government for foreign medical men to combat the plague which has appeared at Batum. Moscow says there is a serious shortage of doctors in Russia."

"Why? Because the Red dictatorship murdered nearly 9,000 Russian medical men."

"That is the story of the Communist revolution in a nutshell. Lenin and his associates would tolerate no dissent of opinion. Their method with dissent was destruction. Communist fanatics wished to destroy all the educated on the theory that education was an unjust privilege. They demanded absolute equality even in ignorance. So they either wiped out the class whose knowledge was essential to the reconstruction of Russia, or compelled its members to flee the country—doctors, scientists, teachers, engineers, experienced directors of industry."

"Then followed months of futile experiment, confusion, deterioration, and finally a vast famine. That has compelled even the bigotry of the dictatorship to give way. The New Economic Policy appeared. Expert directorship and capitalism were brought back by degrees. The latest is an appeal for doctors."

Cites the Lesson
"The lesson is this: Communism was a reversion to a primitive organization of society, not an advance to a higher order, and even the Russian people, low as their level of social and economic existence was under the stupid and cruel bureaucracy of the czars, could not endure a further descent into the darkness of semi-barbarous society. But how are they to be saved? Only by drawing upon the resources of that capitalistic order which Lenin and his revolutionaries would have destroyed if they could. Had the proletarian revolution spread, as the Russian fanatics hoped it would, to all Europe and America, the Russian people would have found no one to drag them out of the abyss. There would have been no foreign doctors to fight the plague for them, no food and supplies from capitalist America, no directors to restore industries and transportation.

"Never in the history of the world has there been so gigantic a folly as the dictatorship of the proletariat under Lenin and his party."

The lesson for us in America is plain. We must advance by development of constitutional government. Whatever undermines the constitution, the initiative, referendum and recall of judges, are sharp two-edged tools that cut both ways. There is no place under our flag for bolshevistic theories and experiments; for hip-pocket or wet press or Ku Klux Klan anarchy. America has no hereditary aristocracy, no proletarian class. We are all common patriotic citizens. We must not, we will not, destroy our government. Full liberty for all can come only by leveling up, not by leveling down; by evolution, not by revolution.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

ILLINOIS WON TWO TITLES IN BIG TEN SPORTS

By NEA Service.
Urbana, Ill., Jan. 2.—University of Illinois athletes gave a good account of themselves in the "Big Ten" sport world in 1922.
Illinois won the "Big Ten" conference championships in two of the four major sports—baseball and track.
The victory of Illinois in baseball was the second straight win for Coach Carl Lundgren's team. It was the third year in a row that Coach Harry Gill's track men conquered the conference.
The greatest Illinois track performance of the year was the feat of the four-mile relay team in the races at Drake, where a new world record of 17:45 was established. The former record was 17:51 2-5.

We will positively discontinue sending any shoes on approval to anyone.

However, we will gladly exchange shoes as heretofore.

In order to maintain our prices as low as we have them and to operate on the small margin of profit that we do, we must eliminate all unnecessary expense.

We have never had any charge accounts. But we have allowed shoes to be taken on approval. This approval business is often abused. Therefore, we will allow no shoes to leave our store from now on that are not paid for.

During 1923, we propose to give our customers better shoes, better service and prettier styles than ever before.

Only on a strictly cash basis and the same fair treatment to everyone can we do this.

We also wish to thank our friends and patrons for their liberal patronage during 1922.

AMATEUR TRAP SHOTS PLAN INCORPORATION

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The amateur trapshooters of America today made their first movement toward assuming absolute control of the sport when incorporation papers were drawn up for a new organization to replace the American Trapshooting association the existing government body. The new organization will be known as the Amateur Trapshooting association of America and will be incorporated under the laws of Delaware.

The incorporators and George S. McCarthy of Newfield, N. J.; Ralph L. Spotts, chairman of the Trapshooting committee of the New York Athletic Club and Dr. George H. Martin, a prominent New York sportsman.

As soon as the necessary legal steps have been taken the Amateurs will assume formal control. The American Trapshooting association which has governed the sport for years was sponsored by manufacturers of ammunition and trapshooting accessories.

TILDEN WINS FROM HUNTER

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—William T. Tilden National tennis champion defeated Francis Hunter, national indoor title holder, in an exhibition match on an indoor court today 8-6, 3-6, 8-6. Tilden, who is playing his first tennis since he lost part of the middle finger of his service hand thru an operation showed up even better yesterday demonstrating that his skill has not been affected to any appreciable extent by the operation.

Hunter won the second set thru brilliant placements. At one period Tilden dropped his racquet and he continually shook his service hand but spectators declared his playing was as accurate as ever.

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—The challenge match in which Willie of New York, will defend his title Houpee of New York, will defend his title of 18.2 bulk line billiard champion will take place here March 12, 13 and 14, C. P. Miller, in charge of arrangements announced today.

Houpee's opponent will be the winner of the match between Jake Schaeffer, of San Francisco and, Roger Conti, the champion of France which will begin on Monday night in Chicago.

The challenge match will be WILL BOX TEN ROUNDS AT OMAHA

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 6.—Missouri University won its second Missouri Valley Basketball game here tonight defeating Drake 50 to 22. Captain Browning for Missouri, shot eight field goals and ten free throws for a total of 26 points.

JENNINGS WILL SUCCEED MCGRAW AS MANAGER

By NEA Service.
New York, Jan. 2.—If Charles Stoneham, principal owner of the New York Giants, decides to quit baseball and John McGraw becomes president of the club, it means that Hughey Jennings will act as manager.
It is said that McGraw's signing of Jennings as his assistant was merely a forerunner of what he had in store for the former Detroit manager, the ultimate leadership of the Giants.
Jennings and McGraw played together on the old Baltimore Orioles. They are of the same school, the real fighters. Jennings knows the McGraw style better than any other baseball manager in the country. Serving as McGraw's assistant for the past few years has merely served to polish Jennings up.

Stoneham, it is said, intends to retire from baseball to go back into the racing game. Such action on his part means McGraw for the presidency of the club and Jennings as manager.

MORVICH PROVED TO BE ABSOLUTE FAILURE

Kentucky Derby Was Only Good Race That He Ran During the Year.
By BILLY EVANS
In turf circles the biggest upset of 1922 was the absolute failure of the great Morvich.

Unbeaten as a two-year-old, the winner of a dozen starts, Morvich was expected to repeat as a three-year-old.

So great had Morvich looked as a two-year-old that a majority of the turf experts rated Morvich as the equal of Man o' War.

Certainly, as a two-year-old, Morvich had looked equally impressive and bid fair to establish as many records as did Man o' War.

Prepared for the first big start of the year—the Kentucky Derby—Morvich seemed certain to justify the claims of the leading turf experts. Morvich won, breezing from a fairly good field. The Kentucky Derby, however, was the only good race that Morvich ran during the year. The wonder two-year-old was beaten in every other start in the three-year-old class.

What called Morvich? That is the big mystery of the turf. Was the horse over-rated as a two-year-old, badly trained as a three-year-old, or simply unfit physically for various reasons?

One thing, however, seems to have been definitely established—Morvich is not quite in the class of Man o' War.

While the failure of Morvich was the big surprise of the year, the continued fine showing of the great Exterminator was one of the pleasing features of the turf season.

Every sport has its outstanding figure. Ty Cobb is the iron man of baseball. For 18 years he has showed the way to the diamond athletes. Age does not seem to affect his play to any great extent. He still retains the title conferred on him years ago—the game's greatest player.

Tennis has its Bill Tilden. Football has its Fielding Yost. Alonzo Stagg, Glenn Warner and a few other famous old-time coaches, who keep up with the game despite their years, and season after season turn out top-notch eleveners.

Exterminator is the Ty Cobb of baseball, the Bill Tilden of tennis. Age does not seem to slow up Exterminator in the least. Despite the added weight he is forced to carry he continues to show the way to the cream of the racing game.

To Exterminator belongs the title, the "wonder horse" of the turf.

KID GLEASON WOULD MAKE STAR OUT OF OUTFIELDER BOB MEUSEL

If Bob Meusel is traded to the Chicago White Sox, he will be a 50 per cent better player than he was with the Yankees.

Bob Meusel should be one of the greatest stars in the game, whereas he is just in the ordinary class.

Meusel's greatest fault is lack of ambition. Baseball is anything but a serious proposition with him. Bob Meusel has much more ability than his brother, Emil, of the Giants, yet he isn't nearly so valuable a player.

Huggins lacked the ability to make Meusel a fighter. Meusel needs a manager who will constantly prod him when he falls down. With Huggins his failures were usually overlooked without so much as even a reprimand.

If Meusel goes to Chicago he will find Kid Gleason a much different individual than Manager Huggins. Gleason is convincing—Huggins just the opposite.

Woe to any ball player who fails to do what Gleason tells him to do. Gleason runs the Chicago club, and the sooner a player finds out that fact the better it will be for him.

With New York, Meusel did just about as he pleased. He might be told to sacrifice, but if he decided that the hit-and-run play was more proper, that is what he would attempt.

Then again, Gleason has a kindly way of appealing to a player that will cause him to put forth his best efforts. If such a method fails, Gleason, despite his 50 years and then some, is still able to physically chastise any player who will not respond to a gentlemanly treatment.

It was the irony fate, that Kirk, who not once during his entire football career asked for time out because of an injury, should die as the result of an automobile accident.

Kirk was unquestionably the best end the west. If not the country, has produced in years. As a defensive player he was without a peer. He also was very proficient in handling the forward pass.

Kirk starred in every game that Michigan played during the 1922 season. No one player meant more to the success of Yost's great eleven than Kirk. Every critic in the west selected Kirk on either the "Big Ten" or middle west all-star teams. A great majority of the critics of the country placed him on their All-America elevens.

The untimely death of Kirk recalls a similar fate that befell George Gipp, famous Notre Dame star. Every lover of football recalls how Gipp at the close of a brilliant football season was stricken with pneumonia and died, just at a time when he was the most-talked-about player in the football world.

It is a rather strange coincidence that Kirk was a member of the Notre Dame football team on which Gipp starred. The death of Kirk marks the passing of that once-famous forward pass combination—Gipp to Kirk. For he it known that Kirk played a year at Notre Dame before coming to Michigan.

Kirk, like Gipp, died at the height of his stardom. Both had finished the greatest season in their football career, when illness in the case of Gipp, and an accident to Kirk, took them away.

Kirk contributed one of the feature plays of the year in the game with Illinois. Receiving the kickoff, Kirk ran 80 yards through the entire Illinois team for a touchdown. It was the play that took much of the steam out of Illinois.

Kirk will be long remembered by Michigan men and others who had seen him in action. He was a player that always gave the best that was in him—the type of which any college may well be proud.

WEAKNESS AT BAT GREATEST FAULT OF COLLEGIANS

By NAE Service.
Boston, Mass., Jan. 5.—Jack Slattery, who for several years has coached the Harvard baseball teams with success, is the authority for the statement that mighty few college ball players have the ability to step right into the majors and make good.

"Players like Sisler and Frisch are rare exceptions in the college ranks," says Slattery. "Sisler came to the Browns from Michigan and Frisch to the Giants from Fordham, and both were stars from their start. They are a couple of rare birds in college baseball."

"Most college players find the pitching in the majors so far better than the college brand that they are lost at the plate."

"Good college pitchers can make a great coach out of their mentor. That is one reason why I look for Joe Wood of Cleveland to be very successful at Yale."

"Wood, a great pitcher in his day, should be able to develop a good staff of twirlers. A college coach is all set for a prosperous season with good pitching. The fact that Wood was a big league pitcher is certain to work greatly to his advantage in his new job."

BILL TILDEN IS STILL PEER OF TENNIS PLAYERS

In the tennis world Bill Tilden was again supreme on the courts. The big Philadelphia always had enough in reserve to swing the margin of victory in his favor.

Among the women tennis players the brilliant showing of Helen Wills, the 16-year-old California miss, was one of the outstanding features of the year.

Helen Wills is a remarkable player. In a year or two she should be mighty close to the top in the ranking of the women tennis players of this country. Following is list of 1922 tennis champions:

National singles William Tilden 2d
National Doubles Tilden and Richards
Clay court singles Bastian and Burdick
Intercollegiate singles L. E. Williams
Intercollegiate doubles Neer and Davies
Junior singles Arnold W. Jones
Women's singles Mrs. M. B. Mallory

FIGHTING ILLINOIS TEAMS OFTEN UPSET BIG TEN GRID DOPE

When it comes to tipping over the old dope pail, and blasting titular hopes and ambitions of other Western Conference elevens the palm goes without dispute to Coach Zuppke and his fighting Illinois teams.

For the fourth time in the past six seasons, the Suckers have turned seeming defeat into victory, and by pulling the unexpected have eliminated as many aggregations over that span of years.

It was back in 1916 that the Suckers first stepped to the fore as "little destroyers." In that campaign, Coach Williams of Minnesota had a powerful machine; in fact, it was rated as one of the best in the entire country.

But then came the game with the Illinois, which outfit had enjoyed just a fair season. Wisconsin, beaten by Minnesota 54 too, had held the Zuppke platoon to a scoreless tie, and the Gophers, therefore, figured the fray in the nature of a graduate.

However, when the smoke had cleared away, it was the gang from Urbana that was on the long end of a 14 to 9 count. The outcome of that never-to-be-forgotten battle, by the way, still remains as one of the unsolved mysteries of Big Ten football.

Three years later Ohio State met Illinois on Ohio field, Columbus. The Suckers were all primed for the title, but in the last 10 seconds of the struggle Zuppke sent in one of the Fletcher boys to boot a field goal. And he did, and again Illinois had literally robbed a team out of the conference championship, by a 9 to 7 score.

Then there was the contest a year ago when the suckers again tackled the Buckeyes at Columbus. Again the Suckers were in the running for Western Conference honors being deadlocked with Iowa.

But once again Zuppke's charges swept the foe aside and Illinois was once more on the right end of a 7 to 0 verdict.

And this season the Urbana eleven surprised the entire grid-iron world—as well as themselves—by edging the powerful Wisconsin unit 3 to 0. The Badgers had figured the tilt in a more or less light vein, but as was the case with Minnesota and Ohio in previous campaigns, the shoe was on the other foot at the conclusion of hostilities.

Thus it would seem that Zuppke and his men exist on blasting the titular ambitions of other Western Conference aggregations, for in some manner or other they seem to rise to the occasion, no matter what the odds may be, and crush the hopes of championship aspirants.

MITCHELL-DUNDEE SCRAP POSTPONED

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Jan. 6.—The Richie Mitchell-Johnny Dundee boxing contest, scheduled for next Monday night has been postponed to January 29.

Physicians who examined Mitchell's injured shoulder last night said today he would be able to box on that date.

Johnny Mendelsohn had been substituted for Mitchell for next Monday night but Dundee would not agree to the change.

BIG SEVEN MAKES NEW FOOTBALL RULING

AURORA, Ill., Jan. 6.—The board of control of the Big Seven conference of Illinois high schools today voted to open the conference football season a week later than in former years. This will make the first game of the season come on the first Saturday in October and will permit of but one game being played afterwards with teams outside the conference. Games with other schools usually those of Chicago, will have to be booked from dates preceding the conference season.

The board also voted to rescind a rule forbidding the playing of basketball games before the first week in January. Hereafter games may be scheduled for any time after Thanksgiving Day.

The annual track and field meet of the conference and the commercial and literary contest were awarded to Aurora. They will probably be held May 26.

The football schedule of last year will be repeated except that home games will be played abroad this year.

MICHIGAN TOO STRONG FOR ILLINOIS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 6.—Michigan's basketball team was too strong for Illinois and won the first game of the season here tonight 30 to 13. The victory marked the end of the Illinois three year jinx on the Wolverines.

ICWA WINS OVER MARGONS 36 TO 23

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Iowa defeated Chicago tonight 36 to 23, in the first game of the season on the Maroon floor. The visitors showed more experience, were faster on the floor and better at guarding. Jans, Iowa left forward caged seven baskets for the individual point making honors.

TWO OVERTIME PERIODS IN GAME

GALESBURG, Ill., Jan. 6.—Bradley defeated Lombard College in basketball 26 to 23, two extra periods being necessary to decide the contest. At the end of the second half the score was 20 to 20.

Both sides counted a basket in the first extra period Bradley winning in the second by scoring two baskets while Lombard got one free throw.

FAMOUS PITCHER HAS NO DESIRE TO BE MANAGER

By NEA Service.
Washington, D. C., Jan. 2.—It is said that Walter Johnson, star pitcher of the Washington team, was considered for the managerial job of that club before Donia Bush was selected.

While the management of the club was not offered to Johnson, according to the inside dope, he was felt out on the proposition.

"When I am through pitching I am done with baseball," is the way Johnson answered the question as to whether or not he had any managerial ambitions.

"A pitcher worries only part of the time, the manager all the time," opines Walter. "I have no desire to be a big league manager. When my pitching no longer passes muster, I want to go back on the farm."

WISCONSIN TRIMS NORTHWESTERN, 21-10

BONUS PAYMENT BLANKS WILL SOON BE READY

Letters Issued By Recognition Board Indicate General Procedure Which Must Be Followed By Ex-Service Men.

In the course of a few days blanks which ex-service men are to use in making application for bonus payments will be ready for distribution. They will be available from the office of County Clerk Riggs and from officers of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Letters explaining the blanks were received by Mr. Riggs and also by Reaugh Jennings, adjutant of the American Legion post. The post expects to plan for meetings, at which special assistance will be provided for ex-service men in filling out the blanks.

The ex-service men must accompany the signed blanks with a copy of their discharge papers. The original is not wanted, but a certified copy must be prepared upon blanks of a certain specified size and kind. The general questions which each applicant must answer are shown below; together with the letter of explanation from Adjutant General Black, who is the secretary of the service recognition board.

The other members of the board are Gov. Small and State Treasurer Oscar Nelson.

Application Blank

The undersigned being first duly sworn, hereby makes application for compensation under the "Act to provide payment of compensation to certain persons who served with the military or naval forces of the United States in the recent war with Germany," and in support of such application makes the following statement under oath:

Name of applicant in full. Serial No.—(If officer, rank and date of commission).

Place and date of birth. Were you a resident of Illinois at the time of your entry into service and, if so, how long had you been a resident?

At the time of your entry into the service did you state that you were a resident of Illinois?

If you gave some other state as your residence, state reason. If a resident of Illinois at the time of your service, give address of home or sleeping room maintained by you.

Were you absent from Illinois during any part of the year next preceding your entry into the service?

If so, for what purpose? Give date and place of enlistment, induction, warrant or commission.

If a member of the national guard, enlisted reserve corps, naval reserve force, regular army reserve, or other organization on an inactive status, give date and place of reporting for active duty.

If you registered under the selective service law, give address from which you registered.

If you did not register from Illinois, give reason.

Give time and place of discharge or separation from the service.

Give place to which travel pay was accepted at discharge or separation from the service.

Where did you last vote prior to entering the service? If married at time of entering service, give address of wife or husband at such time.

If not married at such time, give address of parents, or guardian at time of entering service.

Give name and address of employer at the time you entered service.

If you were a student at an educational institution at time of entering service, or subsequent to entering service, give name and location of school.

Did you pay poll or personal property tax prior to entering service, and if so, where?

Give organizations with which you served subsequent to April 6, 1917, and approximate dates of such service.

Were you a citizen of the United States at the time you entered the service?

Did you ever refuse, on conscientious, political, or any other grounds, to subject yourself to military discipline, or to render unqualified service?

Did you claim exemption? If so, on what grounds?

Did you ever apply for a bonus from another state?

If so, give name of state and final disposition of claim.

If the claim was denied, give reason.

Have you at any time purported to make any assignment of your claim to any other person?

The Secretary's Letter

"My Dear Sir:

"During the week beginning January 8th, you will receive from the Service Recognition Board application blanks for the Illinois Soldiers' Compensation, accompanied by return self-addressed envelopes. These envelopes, or ones similar, should be used by the applicant in returning the application. In accordance with previous announcements or arrangements made, it is desired that these application blanks be distributed among the ex-service men and women in your community. In the event that there are an insufficient number of blanks for your use, more may be secured by return mail upon request to this office."

"Application blanks for all heirs-at-law of deceased veterans will be furnished ONLY upon request to this office, the applicant stating the RELATIONSHIP to the deceased veteran. This information will be necessary before the proper blank can be furnished, and it is suggested that you urge them to apply IMMEDIATELY."

"Every effort has been made by the Board to make the instructions self-explanatory, and it is believed that if they are studied carefully there will be no difficulty in filling out the forms. In many cases, of course, it may be necessary for YOU to furnish assistance to the applicant in executing the form, bearing in mind that the proper execution of it will greatly facilitate the verification and payment of the claim."

"The Service Recognition Board desires to express its appreciation for the helpful spirit of co-operation

KAMM IS PULLING FOR COLLINS TO REMAIN WITH SOX

By NEA Service.

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 5.—Willie Kamm is one ball player who hopes the deal that New York is trying to make for Eddie Collins fails to go through.

Willie Kamm, he it known, is the infielder for whom the Chicago White Sox paid San Francisco the sum of $100,000.

Kamm is really a great ball player. He has a fine pair of hands, and during the last two years has come fast as a hitter. No player ever went to the majors with greater promise. Here is Kamm's reason for hoping Collins remains with the White Sox.

"Coast League players tell me that Collins is a great fellow with the recruits. They say that he goes out of his way to help them. I am positive I will make good for Chicago, but feel that Collins would greatly help me on the road to success. I hate to be selfish, but I will be mighty well pleased if New York fails to land him."

CUBS OF 1923 TO BE ONE OF YOUNGSTERS

CHICAGO.—The Chicago Cubs will go into the 1923 National League pennant race with a team made up of more young players than any other club in the major leagues. It also will be piloted by the youngest manager in the older organization, William Killefer, 34, who was reappointed for a term of two years.

Fifty players are on the club's roster to report for spring training at Catalina Island. The majority were with the club in 1922, when Manager Killefer began the process of reconstructing the club, and with the exception of Marty Krug, who filled in at third base the latter part of the season, will be on hand when called together.

From this array of talent, a club of seasoned players is expected, which should be an improvement over the 1922 aggregation, which made a creditable showing despite the fact it finished in fifth place.

Fourteen pitchers on the Cubs' roster will strive for permanent positions. Of these, only one, Grover Alexander, is a veteran. Although handicapped part of the season of 1922 because of a lame arm, he still has considerable pitching prowess. Four are southpaws.

The Cubs are believed to have acquired star players in George Grantham and R. B. Barrett, who will contest with ten other men signed up for infield positions.

Charley Hollocher, rated as one of the best shortstops in the majors, should have no trouble winning his regular berth, but Ray Grimes, one of the leading first basemen in the league may find some stiff competition among the other young men.

Other candidates for the infield berths include Johnny Kelleher, and Joe Klugmann, who return from Atlanta. Bernie De Vries also comes back for another trial. Ten men are slated to battle for the outfield berths. The catching department should show to greater advantage in 1923, as Bob O'Farrell has developed into one of the best backstops in the league. He probably will be the first string receiver, but will find some competition in Wirtz and Leo Hartnett.

YOST EXPLAINS ORIGIN OF PASS

Says He Started It: Twenty Five Years Ago Throwing a Football to Teach Men How to Kick Spirals—Other Sport Gossip.

CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—(By The Associated Press.)—The discoverer of the play chiefly responsible for the modern-day style of football—the forward pass—has just been found. Twenty-five years ago, nine years before the forward pass was used in football, he introduced the spiral throw, using it first at Ohio Wesleyan University to teach punters how to kick a spiral.

Using his hand instead of his foot, for Yost says he was a poor punter, he explained to his squad how to impart a whirling motion to the oval, to give it speed and direction. For many years he used this trick in coaching his backfield, and in 1905, the year before the present-day forward pass, he published a book on football, illustrations of his method of getting off the spiral throw.

"In executing the spiral throw," Yost said in his 1905 article, "place the ball on the hand as in the illustration. The ball should be diagonally across the palm from the base of the thumb to the end of the little finger. The arm should be brought around forward in a horizontal line and, just as the ball leaves the hand, it should be caused to revolve on its axis by suddenly jerking the hand around the ball and to the left. The oval will thus be made to rotate like a spiral kick. The end of the ball that is ahead in the picture must be kept ahead all the time. The ball in this manner can be thrown with ease from 3 to 40 yards. The revolution of the ball on its axis should be rapid. This pass can be made with or across the wind and with practice the player can control its distance and direction almost as well as if the oval were a baseball."

Cobb-Hit Controversy
Many versions of the "Ty" Cobb hit controversy filled the columns of baseball gossip, but the truth is that President Ban Johnson of the American League refused to accept an unsigned box score as official.

When Johnson announced after several weeks of dispute in newspaper articles, that the hit was awarded to Cobb because the official box was "unauthenticated," he meant "unsigned."

An unsigned box score, Johnson held, was like an unsigned check—no good. The discovery of two discrepancies in the unsigned box score was brought to Johnson's attention by the American League official statistician as a routine matter and the Associated Press box score was substituted for the official box.

Careful checking of the season's box scores for final official averages brings to light, it is learned, many disputes and obvious errors which are corrected by the official statistician, if plainly erroneous, without becoming known. Some official scorers, it is said, have been prone to omit such undisputed events as double plays and home runs.

Life of "Bat" Nelson
"The Life of Bat Nelson," former light-weight champion, who met them all and retained his title until Ad Wolgast won the crown, fails to reveal the money saving capabilities of the former slugger and punishment absorbing Dane, altho it relates his life's ring career authentically.

Nelson recently returned from the east where he was awarded $1,000 damages following his arrest on a charge of shoplifting, which he proved to be untrue. Enroute home he learned that the price of a sleeping car berth would be nine dollars. Rather than spend that amount, "Bat" says he sat up all night and when he finally dozed off to sleep all the windows in the coach were opened causing him to take a cold which prevented his talking for several days.

"That nine dollars cost me 1900," he said, "and you can believe me, hereafter when I want a sleeper I'll pay the price, because I have got to have my voice in my business."

Would Eliminate Schools
Western Conference schools only should be permitted to compete in annual "Big Ten" outdoor track and field meet, in the opinion of Nelson M. Kellogg, director of athletics at Purdue University, and chairman of the athletic directors' committee of the Western Conference. The fact that numerous athletic organizations, now in existence when the "Big Ten" track meet was formed, now have track meets of their own, is given as one reason by Mr. Kellogg to confine the event to "Big Ten" schools.

"Barring non-conference schools from the Big Ten meeting would be an aid to the national intercollegiate meet," Athletic Director Kellogg said. "Many schools feel that they cannot enter both, so that if they were not permitted to engage in the Conference event, they would be almost certain to enter the National meet."

Discrimination against Western Conference schools by institutions which enter the Big Ten event only when the latter have exceptionally strong teams was given as another reason why the Conference meet should be only for members of the organization, Director Kellogg said.

TO CONTINUE WORK ON TOKIO'S SUBWAY SYSTEM
Tokio.—Work on Tokio's subway system will be resumed next June, the first line to be constructed from Shinjogawa, a suburb, to Ueno Park, via Shimbashi. It is to be completed in 1927. The distance is about nine miles and will cost about forty million yen.

The second plan is to spend about ninety-two million yen on different lines connecting the city with its suburbs, a distance of more than twenty miles. When all plans are completed, Tokio will have forty-four miles of subway.

WILLIE KEELER CREATED MANY BALL RECORDS

BY BILLY EVANS

Willie Keeler is dead. In his day Willie Keeler stood out as prominently as Ty Cobb of today.

No greater compliment could be paid the veteran. Many batting records are credited to Keeler.

His feat of hitting safely in 44 consecutive games still stands. Ty Cobb has hit safely in 40 straight games, George Sisler in 41.

Until 1922 his record of 243 hits in one season stood as a record in the National League. Last year Rogers Hornsby surpassed it with 250.

For eight years, from 1894 to 1901, Keeler established two unique records by making more than 100 runs and more than 200 hits each season.

Keeler Holds Many Records. These are just a few of the remarkable feats that Keeler performed at the bat.

Which one of them did Keeler regard as the greatest? A few years ago I wrote Keeler asking him to tell me what feat of batting he regarded as his greatest performance.

Keeler didn't mention one of the feats that I have enumerated. "Records didn't mean much to me in baseball. Winning ball games was my first thought."

"The record books credit me with a great many batting feats, but fail to mention what I regard as the real feature of my career in baseball."

His Greatest Performance. "While my memory is a trifle hazy as to actual facts, I want to bat 700 consecutive times in the National League, covering parts of three seasons, before I was struck out. Every baseball fan knows how easy it is for a star batter to strike out. That is why I regard that performance as the greatest of my career in baseball."

"As I recall it, I started my record the first day of the season of 1895, went through the entire season of 1896 without whiffing, and played a number of games in the spring of 1897 before I was retired over the strike-out route.

"The National League had some good pitchers in those days, Cy Young, Cuffy, Foreman, Klobendanz, Ehret, Rhines, Nichols, Clarke Griffith, Killem, Hawley and a host of others."

"While I prize all my records, going to bat 700 times without striking out is easily the best, in my opinion."

GLASGOW DEMOLISHES
ITS RIVER SLUMS
Glasgow.—The famous river tenement district of Glasgow, which has long had the reputation of being the most squalid in the world, is to be entirely wiped out. As the buildings were in danger of collapse, the city authorities ordered the tenants to vacate, and have approved plans to have the slum houses torn down.

The district will not be rebuilt, but new municipally owned houses are being erected in the suburbs to care for the hundreds of homeless of the poorer classes.

80 PER CENT OF FIRE LOSS NOW ADJUSTED

Companies will pay $100,000 in insurance on property destroyed and damaged in recent fire — Much Work Involved.

Eighty per cent of the insurance adjustments necessary on account of the recent disastrous fire on the south side of the square, have been made. The adjustments are involving an immense amount of work for insurance experts, and yet within the past week, insurance on all but two buildings and all stocks, except one, have been adjusted.

Between forty and fifty insurance corporations are involved in the fire, and scores of policies are held on the property which suffered. The amount of insurance carried on the property destroyed and damaged totals about $140,000, of which the companies will pay about $100,000. The difference between the insurance carried and the amounts paid is due to the fact that some buildings were only damaged by the fire. Agents expect to resume the work of adjustment the first of the week.

CHANGE WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING TO JAN. 18

The Woman's club meeting for January will be held Thursday evening, January 18, instead of Saturday afternoon, January 13. Because of the importance of the speaker, Edward Howard Griggs, it seemed advisable to the education committee to arrange for an evening meeting, in order that anyone interested might be able to attend. The meeting will be open to anyone who purchases a guest ticket. The social service committee will arrange for the regular February meeting.

Edward Howard Griggs always treats his subjects in a clear and powerful way. I have heard him on many occasions address very large audiences and have never known him to fail to hold the attention and enlist the interest of all to the very end.

TRANSFER COMPANY PLANS NEW WAREHOUSE

TO ERECT SPACIOUS FIRE-PROOF STRUCTURE.

Will Largely Increase Storage Space and Make Provision For Farm Supply Co's. Retail Business.

The stockholders of the Jacksonville Transfer Co. are to meet in annual session tomorrow night. At that time it is quite certain that plans will be approved for very substantial addition to the company's building on East State street.

It is proposed to erect a three story warehouse in general dimensions of 50 by 75 feet. It will be of steel and reinforced construction and absolutely fireproof. When completed the basement and three stories will be available for storage purposes.

The company has for some time felt the need of a fireproof building and also for the increased storage space. The new building will increase the storage capacity of the company about 70 per cent.

Another reason for the building at this time is the fact that the storage space now utilized by the company is needed for the retail department of the Jacksonville Farm Supply Co. As is generally known, the present building houses both the Farm Supply Co. and the Jacksonville Transfer Co.

The Farm Supply Co. does a very large wholesale business and for a time it was the intention to retire from the local retail field. However many customers of the company have been going to the East State street plant and the managers of the company have determined to again give emphasis to the retail business.

The facilities of the East State street building will be ample for both the wholesale and retail departments as soon as it is possible to use the new warehouse.

The use of a fireproof building for storage purposes will mean an increase in business, as shipments from other cities will be made here for storage purposes. M. R. Range is the manager of the Farm Supply Co. business and Frank Eades the manager of the Jacksonville Transfer Co. business. Charles T. Mackness serves as president of both of the companies.

AUSTRIA'S PLIGHT SHOWN IN LETTER

U. S. Consul at Trieste, Italy Writes Jacksonville Friend of Country as Seen on Recent Trip.

A letter received by William N. Hargrove from his friend, Joseph F. Haven, who is in the consular service of the U. S. and located in Trieste, Italy, gives a most interesting picture of conditions in Hungary and Austria. Mr. Haven has but lately returned to his station after several months' stay in the U. S. His return to the U. S. was made after thirteen years' absence, and Mr. Haven wrote: "After such a long absence America looked pretty good to me and I really hated to leave, but that is the penalty of the consular service—one must live away from his own country."

In his vivid portrayal of the poverty which prevails in Austria Mr. Haven wrote as follows:

As I have said, we have just returned from Hungary where I found conditions better than I expected since the people will not lose hope and courage for the future but are working hard trying to make the best of things. Austria (through which we returned) is in a pitiable state, however, and absolutely broken in spirit for of course, nothing remains to that once proud country but memories. Her natural resources are gone, her currency the joke of Europe since the crown, instead of being worth for the dollar, is now 71,000. In other words, a doctor or a lawyer who had saved up for his old age 71,000 crowns which normally would be worth $14,000, now finds his entire savings worth $1.11! It is the retired school teacher, old pensioned soldier, professional man and widow who now suffer since they literally have nothing on which to live but cabbage soup.

Black bread costs 5,000 crowns a loaf which means about nine cents to anyone who has American dollars to exchange, but to an old man or woman whose sole savings of a lifetime are 71,000 crowns, that loaf of bread means one-twelfth of his entire capital! Just think that over a bit and you will begin to understand the horror of what this war has produced to the educated classes, too proud to beg and too old to either work or attempt to work alongside of the young workman who is able to sell his young strength at good wages. The working class is well off for it is paid at the present scale of wages which has increased in proportion to the fall in the intrinsic value of the money, but the man or woman dependent on a few crowns saved during a lifetime, are now starving.

This sounds like an appeal for help but I don't mean it as such for I am simply telling you what I actually know as to conditions. America has been benefited with appeals for funds for everything from Armenians to devastated church windows and we are tired of it but it wasn't until I had been to Vienna myself that I appreciated some of the terrible results of the war which have not been "press-agented."

One dollar and a half will feed a hungry Austrian baby all winter and so instead of buying fool Christmas presents for friends and relatives who don't need them, I am sending the corresponding sum to friends in Vienna for distribution among the poor devils who are hungry.

MATRIMONY

Opperman-Lober.
Mr. and Mrs. Harry Opperman, the latter formerly Miss Mabel Lober, a trained nurse of this city, returned last night from a short honeymoon trip which followed their marriage a few days ago at Peoria.

TEACHER AT I. W. C. STRUCK BY AUTOIST

Miss Florence Kirby, teacher of piano on the staff of Illinois Woman's college, suffered severe bruises and a nervous shock and perhaps other injuries when she was struck by the bumper of an automobile while waiting to board the west bound street car at the college. The accident occurred at about 6 o'clock Friday evening as Miss Kirby was starting for her room at the Colonial Inn.

Miss Kirby had avoided one automobile, but in the thick snow and the intent to signal the street car, had failed to see the second car, which may likewise have had the view ahead obstructed by the snow. The car stopped immediately, so that only the front bumper struck her.

Miss Kirby was taken to Our Savior's hospital, where she fainted. It was thought last night that she would be able to leave the hospital today, as no internal injury was evident.

NATION BEGINNING TO TAKE STOCK OF FORESTS AND WOODS

Chief Forester Says That We Must See How Much We Have and How Much We Will Need in the Future—We are Even Now
Practically Out of All Purpose Woods

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—As never before the world is taking stock of what it needs, Chief Forester William B. Greeley says in his annual report. Not the least indispensable of these things is wood, he says, and to take stock of how much wood we have and what we shall need is an important step in determining our future attitude toward our forests.

"As a background to this broad inquiry," Colonel Greeley continues, "forest service investigators have recently completed a unique and exhaustive compilation of the forest resources of the world. One startling revelation is that so far as our great structural and all purpose woods—the soft woods—are concerned, we must become self-sufficient or go without. Siberia has great forested areas, yet if all the Siberian timber were at the undisputed call of the United States the quantity available for annual export would hardly amount to one-fourth of our demands.

Further, a great part of the forests of Siberia lie within the interior of the continent and never will be available. There is an immense reservoir of hardwoods in the tropics, which can be used for limited and special purposes and secured at mahogany prices. But the struggle for the world's supply of softwoods will become more and more intense, and those nations will fare best that prudently use their suitable waste lands for growing coniferous woods. This study shatters the dream of those who rely on importing the timber we need when our own is gone.

"The situation is not hopeful when we turn to our own forests. There has been a marked and fairly steady decline in our national output of lumber from about 45,000,000,000 board feet in 1906 to less than 34,000,000,000 board feet in 1920. This downward trend, which seems unlikely to turn permanently upward again at any time that can now be foreseen, has taken place in spite of a large increase in population, with its increasing demand for housing, furniture, and wood in many other forms. The decline in the production of lumber and the increase in population have resulted in a striking drop in the per capita consumption of lumber—from over 500 board feet per person in 1906 to about 320 board feet in 1920. This decline in the consumption of wood unquestionably means a decline in the standards of living. Of this declining standard the shortage of housing is an impressive example.

"The shortage of lumber, with its corollary of high prices, has followed the westward sweep of lumbering, while the bulk of our population and the greatest demands for lumber remain in the Central and Eastern States. The Nation's lumber shipment in 1922, a recent Forest Service study shows, was no less than 2,070,000 carloads; and the average haul for each car load, was 185 miles. According to the best estimate the Forest Service is able to make, the freight bill on lumber for that year was $275,000,000. This sum merely gives one measure of the cost of treating our forests as mines instead of timber farms. A fraction of this sum wisely invested each year in forest production and rehabilitation would grow timber where it is needed, reduce the Nation's freight bill, cheapen lumber, and release vast amounts of railroad

ITALIAN DICTATOR QUALIFIES AS LINGUIST

ROME.—Benito Mussolini, the youthful dictator of Italy, is an accomplished linguist. Besides his mother tongue, Italian, he possesses, in order named, knowledge of French, German and English.

He learned French at an early age and speaks it without the slightest accent. For some years before the war he was a professor of French literature in the University of Milan.

While an editor on a newspaper published in Trento and owned by Cesare Battisti, the Italian patriot executed by the Austrians during the war, studied German, and while his pronunciation is not on a par with his French, he has a profound knowledge of Goethe's tongue.

Seriously wounded during the war he remained two months in a hospital. There, during his convalescence, he took up the study of English.

"I hardly think I could qualify to make a speech in the American Congress," he said to a friend recently, "but," he added with a touch of pride, "I read the English newspapers myself."

COOPERATIVE MARKETING TO FEATURE BUREAU WORK

Chicago, Jan. 6.—By the A. P. Cooperative marketing will dominate the 1923 program of the American Farm Bureau Federation, according to O. E. Bradford, president-elect. The efforts of the entire organization will center around this work, he added.

"The Farm Bureau must function as a service organization," said Mr. Bradford, "and the biggest service which can be rendered is in perfecting cooperative marketing. A new director and a staff of commodity specialists will be appointed."

Concord people who shopped in Jacksonville Saturday included Frank Nichols, Charles Rahn, Virgil and Lawrence Weichoff, Alfred Brockhouse and Merle Beddingfield.

Garrett Biblical Institute, of Evanston, has the largest enrollment of theological students, 384, in the theological seminaries of the Methodist Episcopal church, according to a survey made public by Dr. Charles M. Stuart, president of Garrett Biblical Institute, Boston University, School of Theology has 283 students and Drew Theological Seminary, Madison, N. J., has 200 students.

According to an investigation covering 100 of the students registered, 15 were born in Illinois, 9 in Iowa, 8 in Indiana, 6 in Kansas, 5 in West Virginia, 5 in Nebraska, 5 in Pennsylvania, 5 in Ohio, 4 in Missouri, 2 in England, 2 in China, 1 in Japan, 1 in Canada, 1 in Australia, 1 in West Africa.

The survey reveals that a majority of the fathers of the students are farmers, 48 out of the 100. Fifteen fathers are ministers, 5 laborers, 5 railroadmen, 3 merchants, 1 a banker, 1 a newspaper man, 1 a truck gardener, 1 a jeweler, 2 bankers, 2 mailmen, 2 boatmen, a manufacturer, and one village warrior.

The average age of the students is 28, the number married, 28. The political affiliations show that four are Democrats, four Progressive Republicans, seven Independent Republicans, twenty-two Republicans and fifty-three have no party affiliation.

Nine students are engaged in social or religious work other than the regular pastorate, sixty-seven are engaged as pastors. Ninety five per cent of the total student body are working outside of school hours in order to defray expenses. Only five per cent of the students have sufficient funds coming from home or out of their resources to pay expenses while in school.

Of the fifty-five students who had pastorate last year, the average salary was $994. The average salary this year is $1,098. Of the other students reported in this survey, 23 expect to work in foreign fields, 7 expect to work in the home field. Of the students expecting to enter into the pastorate, 27 are preparing for rural churches, 21 for city churches and 5 for religious educational services, 8 for industrial field work, 1 for a town church, 1 for work among Indians and 7 are willing to act as pastors wherever located by church authorities.

EQUAL RIGHTS ASKED BY CUBAN WOMEN

Havana, Cuba.—Cuban womanhood will be called to the colors soon for a campaign to secure equal rights. The opening gun will be fired at a National Women's Congress which is being organized by a committee from the National Federation of Feminine Associations and although the date has not been fixed, an extensive program consisting of ten official congressional themes has been arranged. It follows:

1. Women's Rights. Constitutional reforms to secure civil and political equality.
2. Social Mission of Cuban Womanhood. Action through public speaking and the press.
3. Women's Work. Protective legislation for feminine workers and expectant mothers who also are bread winners.
4. Protection for the Cuban Home. Reformation of legislation affecting property rights of wives and children.
5. Moral and physical Welfare of the Race. Campaign against social evils and diseases, lewd books, white slave trade and habit forming drugs.
6. Child Welfare. Assistance in fighting infant mortality and improving the moral and physical standards of Cuba's youth.
7. Social Welfare. Study of arts and sciences, summer colonies, instruction in civil rights.
8. Woman Suffrage. Constitutional reforms.
9. Women in Business. Their actual status and means of improving it.
10. Women on the Farm. Farm classes for women and means of instilling a love for flowers and the beautifying of homes.

The executive committee for the congress is made up of Mrs. Pilar Merlen de Menendez, president, and eight vice-presidents: Mrs. Manuela Berriz de Valdes, secretary and five assistant secretaries; and Miss Hortensia Linares, treasurer.

MAY BUILD BRIDGE ACROSS ROCK RIVER

Rockford, Ill.—The board of supervisors is considering a resolution calling for the construction of a modern bridge across Rock River at the east end of Auburn to take the place of Highway Bridge. The proposed structure would eliminate two grade crossings.

EXHIBITING UKIYOE PRINTS
Osaka.—The exhibition of Ukiyoe prints is attracting considerable public attention. The prints belonging to Kotaro Matsukata are a few of about 10,000 the greater part of which were purchased from Henry Verver, French art connoisseur. The exhibit depicts rural and urban subjects and is conspicuous by the absence of any picture of military life or action.

DAY A WEEK TO PAY TAXES

Roger Babson Says We Pay One-Sixth Total Income to Meet Levies

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Jan. 6.—How much of your productive time during 1922 was used in paying taxes? Roger Babson, the Statistician answered the question, today, in a statement that shows the equivalent of one day each week spent to meet the direct and indirect taxes that nation, states, county and city levy.

"One hour and twenty minutes of each business day—or one entire day a week—is demanded of every able-bodied person in the United States to maintain government," says Mr. Babson. "That is the lesson of a recent analysis showing that one-sixth of our national income goes for taxes, federal, state and local. The amount divides almost equally between national taxation and the expenditure for state and local purposes. The question is not, therefore, one of any particular party politics.

"This habit of 'getting the Government to do something about it' is one of the most costly and wasteful ideas that we Americans have developed. It has grown upon us since the war. We became accustomed to things that would not have had consideration before. Now we are expected by one nation only, Great Britain, in our cost of being governed. There the 'unemployment doles' and other legislation put forward by a stronger labor vote have exceeded any thing attempted here as yet. But this tendency must be checked abruptly if American business is to survive in the competition which it faces over the next five to ten years.

"Because any one individual does not see the tax collector, he thinks perhaps that he does not pay, but he does pay just the same. Taxation costs represent an item of overhead in everything in that any one buys, consumes, or uses in process of working up to a finished product. The tax burden is inevitable. There are a certain number of potential labor hours represented in the individuals making up any community. The number of these labor hours which it takes to produce his property, make safe his home and educate his children are

MODERN LEGISLATION TO PREVENT BLINDNESS

Field Secretary for National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness Says Modern Legislation Needed Badly.

NEW YORK.—The need for more modern legislation dealing with the prevention of blindness and the conservation of vision, and local organizations devoted to these causes, is emphasized in the annual report of Lewis H. Carris, field secretary of the National Committee for the Prevention of Blindness, made public today at the headquarters of the committee in this city.

Mr. Carris' findings are based on a survey of the blindness situation in the eastern half of the United States conducted during the past year. Special attention was given to conditions in Indiana, Illinois, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Oklahoma, Alabama, and New York, in which states the National Committee cooperated with local agencies in conducting educational campaigns.

"The most effective work for the prevention of blindness and for the conservation of vision," Mr. Carris reports, "can be accomplished through the aggressive work of state and local organizations should be closely affiliated with the National Committee. A survey of the field shows that California, New York, Illinois and New York are at present the only states having volunteer organizations for the prevention of blindness, though a number of other states have organizations for the blind doing some preventive work."

Declaring it is apparent that a very considerable part of the activities for the prevention of blindness must ultimately become governmental, and in consequence there must be basic state legislation providing for such action, the report of the National Committee calls attention to the need for the following types of laws: In the field of indirect preventive legislation, school medical inspection laws, laws providing for the establishment of conservation vision classes, factory laws providing for the safeguarding of vision, laws governing the sale of wood alcohol and laws governing the practice of midwives.

In the field of direct preventive legislation, laws for the prevention of babies eyes disease commonly called ophthalmia neonatorum; laws providing for the control and elimination of trachoma and other contagious eye diseases, and laws providing for the establishment of state commissions with authority and appropriations for work in the field of prevention, such authority usually being given to a state commission for the blind.

Fred B. Burch, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bergschneider, Cecil Doyle and Truman Stewart were visitors yesterday from Franklin.

Watson Leck from west of the city was a local visitor Saturday.

STABILIZED PESO IN BOND TRANSACTIONS

Philippines Believe Crisis Will be Over This Month if Bonds Can Be Sold.

MANILA.—The period of uncertainty in local exchange transactions and of fluctuations in the rate of exchange against the Philippine peso will be over by January if the proceeds of the sale of $13,500,000 worth of insular bonds, sold in New York, are received here in time to enable the government to resume the permanent sale of exchange on January 1, according to B. F. Wright, special bank examiner for the Philippine government. By that time it will be possible to put the new currency system into operation and the parity of the peso will be maintained from then on, Mr. Wright believes.

"The bonds for the rehabilitation of the currency system amount to $23,500,000," said Mr. Wright. "Last July, $10,000,000 of these bonds were sold to pay off an equivalent amount of certificates of indebtedness of the currency fund which were due on August 2, 1922. Due to unfavorable conditions in the bond market of the United States it was found advisable to postpone the sale of the remaining $13,500,000 worth of bonds until December. Conditions, however, have improved and the proceeds from the rest of the bonds, together with the $20,000,000 certificates of indebtedness which may be issued any time necessary will be enough to keep the peso permanently at par with the dollar.

"Business conditions in the islands should be greater improved by the elimination of all uncertainty in exchange transactions. I consider that this represents one of the biggest prices of construction work done here by Governor General Wood. By maintaining the peso at par, foreign merchants will again have confidence and will gladly increase their trade relations with local business men.

"The new currency system provides for the construction of the principals of the system which was established here in 1904. For fifteen years that system worked without a flaw but broke down in 1917 owing to maladministration of the currency reserve funds and to certain inadvisable changes made in the currency law of the islands during the war. It was then found necessary to go back to the original system and provide for the establishment of two separate funds.

MANY UNION MEN IN HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON.—For the first time in 50 years, the legal profession is not the occupation of a majority of members of the House of Commons.

The new Commons will contain 83 members who make their living as Trade Union officials, while only 60 of the members are lawyers. The number of lawyers is less than the average for the last half century, and represents less than a third of the number of members of the profession who were candidates. The Trade Union officials were more successful in the last election, electing 83 out of 102 candidates.

The standing of the trades and professions in the new House of Commons is approximately: Trade Union officials, 83. Company directors, 40. Journalists and Authors, 30. Miscellaneous professions, 25. Merchants, 25. Engineers, 20. Farmers, 11. Publishers, 9. Brewers and Distillers, 7. Ministers, 8. Lawyers, 80. Army and army officers, 46. Manufacturers, 37. Shipowners, 30. Teachers, 25. Landowners, 22. Bankers and Brokers, 11. Doctors, 9. Contractors, 6. Housewives, 2.

Forty eight photographs of the are made. Several weeks will be taken by the expedition. Eight of them were in connection with the Einstein theory and the others were of the stars and spectrum and corna of the sun.

Four "Einstein cameras," designed and constructed especially for the eclipse, were used by the expedition. They required plates 17 inches square and a quarter of an inch thick. The plates were made of plate glass and weighed 7 pounds each. The sun's corona was photographed with a camera 40 feet in focal length on plates 14 by 17 inches in size.

The plates recently arrived here from the south Pacific with eighty four packages of scientific instruments used by the party. The shipment was sent to the observatory, which is on Mt. Hamilton, in bond by truck and the packages of plates, carefully packed, weighed 600 pounds. During their journey across the Pacific great care was taken to see that the plates arrived intact.

The Crocker Expedition was fortunate in that Eclipse Day was bright and clear. A German expedition to Thursday Island, headed by Dr. Einstein, reported failure because fog hid the sun when the eclipse occurred. Dr. Einstein was quoted at Kobe, on his way home, to the effect that he thought the Campbell plates would prove his theory correct.

VARIED SUBJECTS UP FOR DISCUSSION FOR EDUCATION WEEK

Will Come Up at Annual Conventions of the Association of American College
Church Boards of Education and Church
Workers in Universities—Noted Speakers

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 6.—Religious conditions, academic freedom, athletics, college endowments, publicity and related subjects of importance in the field of education, will be reviewed here next week in connection with the annual conventions of the Association of American Colleges, the Council of Church Boards of Education and Church Workers in Universities.

The educational situation in America is most encouraging, according to Dr. Robert L. Kelly of New York, executive secretary, and never in history have so many young people sought college training. "So great has been the influx of students since the war that nearly all of the larger institutions are overcrowded and forced to turn students away. The greatest problem now facing these institutions is that of finances."

IROQUOIS INDIANS WILL REMAIN IN CANADA

TORONTO.—The Iroquois Indians have made peace with the dominion government. Threats of migration to the reservations of the nation in the United States because the dominion would not recognize the red men as an independent nation, have been forgotten. The hatchet was buried and the peace pipe was smoked at Chawaken early in December.

Chief Deskaheh, leader of the faction fighting for independence carried the issue to the council house of the nation, but accepted defeat socially when the other chiefs at the pow-wow outvoted him. He and his followers had maintained that their grievances were properly matters for an international court of law, their independence having been recognized by a British sovereign.

Leaders of the Loyalists, the winning faction at Chawaken, were chiefly from the Christian tribes or the Mohawks and Delaware. They were well satisfied with the outcome at the pow-wow, but now propose to go even further. Their tribes have virtually no representation on the hereditary council, members of which are elected for life by the women of the tribes. The Loyalists, it is announced, will work for an elective, "to conform with the democratic trend of the times and to do away with a remnant of feudalism."

DAYS OF REAL SPORT
Decatur, Ill.—The "days of real sport" have come again to Decatur. Dreamland lake is being filled with city water that the whole town may have a skating rink this winter. It would require four or five days to fill the lake, city officials stated.

WILL HOLD CITY COURT ELECTION

Moline, Ill.—Moline will hold a city court election Feb. 20 at which a city court judge and court clerk will be elected. Judge G. O. Dietz and Clerk George Shrader, who have served for eight years, are candidates for reelection. The primary for the election will be held January 30.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE NOTES

The monthly luncheon of the local alumnae and former students was held Saturday at the Peacock Inn and was largely attended, there being about fifty present. No formal program had been planned.

Margaret Watson of the class of 1921 was a visitor at the college Friday on her way back to Albany, Wisconsin, where she is teaching in the high school in that community. Rose Martinolles, ex-'20, was also at the college Friday and renewed her acquaintances among the faculty and students. Miss Martinolles expects to visit in France the coming summer and will return to America where she will continue her work. Esther Hetherlin of the class of 1920, called at the college Friday. She is now Librarian in the high school at Winona, Minnesota and has been very successful in her work there. Miss Hetherline was one of the honor students at the college and was awarded the honor scholarship for graduate work at the University of Illinois.

Advance registration for the second semester will begin on Monday, Jan. 15. The semester examinations will begin the afternoon of January 31st and continue through the first three days of February.

The plans in connection with the campaign keep the President extremely busy. Wednesday and Thursday of this week were spent in Peoria making plans for the carrying out of the campaign, which will be known as the Bi-Conference Movement. President Harker will spend the week beginning January 8 in nounced Tuesday morning during the chapel hour. The Endowment Committee are quite gratified at the success which attended the plan which was devised. A prize is to be awarded to the student bringing in the most by this method.

Miss Helen Massie of Franklin, who will complete her requirements for the Bachelor's degree at the end of this semester, has already been appointed to the position as a member of the high school faculty of Bluffs, Illinois, and will take up her work on February first. Dorothy May Smith and Ada Foster, also of this year's Senior class expect to take the Civil Service examination for the position of Dietitian.

The college was fortunate in drawing the $25 in gold during the gift campaign. This money has been placed to the credit of the endowment fund which the college is now raising. The income from this fund will be used in helping educate the many needy students who attend the college.

Mrs. H. B. Lusch of Chicago, has presented to the college library, $75, to be used in the purchase of books in the mothershead Memorial. Mrs. Lusch is a sister of Miss. Mothershead who was Dean of the college and who died in December, 1916.

Nature is sending blood—either good or bad—to every part of your body. Feel your pulse and think about your blood!

It is a fact that with the increase of red-cells in your blood, impurities are destroyed. It is a fact that S. S. S. builds red-blood-cells and serves to destroy impurities which cause pimples, boils, eczema and rheumatic trouble! It is a fact that S. S. S. is one of the most remarkable nerve-power builders ever produced to build up fagged-out, run-down men and women. It is a fact that S. S. S. sharpens the appetite, puts the "pink of the rose" in the cheeks, gives energy, and helps to make flesh firm! It is a glorious fact that S. S. S. has given new, long-forgotten strength to older people and has made many old and young people look years younger. Blood is life—it is your foundation. Make it rich. Get blood-strength. We all need it, especially rheumatics. Begin taking S. S. S. right away today. It will prove itself. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical. If you cannot get S. S. S. yourself, see that someone in your household gets it for you. Read this aloud to the family tonight.

RAILROADS FACING UNUSUAL PROBLEMS

Prosperity Assured if They Are Encouraged in Initiative and Allowed Fair Return.

The railroads of the United States, at the close of an eventful year, face an array of unusual and in most respects unprecedented difficulties, according to Samuel Rea president of the Pennsylvania Railroad system. Since the latter part of 1921 there has been a reversal of business conditions in America. From extreme dullness we have rapidly advanced to a point where railroad traffic is close to record levels.

To handle that rush of traffic is more difficult now than during the war, when individual conveniences and advantages were patriotically sacrificed. Much congestion exists, which I trust will be short-lived, and many emergency measures are being used to relieve the situation.

Immediate causes of congestion have been resumption of coal mining after the suspension of spring and summer, flood of general business, partly to restore long-existing shortages due to the war and partly coming from revival in lines of trade curtailed by the coal strike; enormous crops of the present year, inability of the railroads during the depression in 1921 to earn enough to maintain all cars and engines and the general railroad shopmen's strike last summer.

Moreover, other causes, more deeply rooted and dangerous, have helped to produce the present undesirable conditions. Among the most important may be mentioned the long series of political attacks on railroads, restrictive and repressive regulation by Federal and State bodies, constant pressure for reduced rates and the low investment returns allowed for over a dozen years.

We are endeavoring to give the best possible service, improve facilities and order new equipment, meanwhile pinning our faith upon an enlightened public sentiment to lessen the burdens under which progressive railroad management struggles.

The country cannot continue prosperous unless the railroads, which unite it, are prosperous. Railroad prosperity can be assured if railroads are encouraged to greater initiative in carrying on their work, allowed to earn and pay a fair return to those who are willing to buy and hold railroad

A BOOK FOR THE LEADER

OF CHILDREN'S GAMES

"A Practical Handbook of Games" by Emily W. Elmore was prepared particularly for the use of the teacher or game leader. There are games for out of doors and the gymnasium as well; for young children and older pupils of high school grade, and each game has been chosen, not only for the physical exercise en-volved, but also for the development given the moral sense of fairness and keen play, quickness of perception, and in the case of certain games, loyalty and a friendly spirit of rivalry.

OLD MINE WORKINGS DISCOVERED IN AFRICA

JOHANNESBURG.—A discovery of considerable archeological interest has been made 30 miles north of the Lepoort tin mines in the Transvaal, near the Beuchanaland border.

A prospector has unearthed what is apparently a portion of an ancient smelting plant and a quantity of slag, which is being submitted to expert examination. Nearby were old workings and a substantial body of ore containing a whitish metal, thought to be platinum or molybdenum. Mining engineers have left for the scene of the discovery.

The Ladies' Aid Society of Brooklyn church will hold its regular meeting and birthday social at 2:30 Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. J. W. Wright on South Clay avenue. The assistant hostesses are Mrs. Scholfield and Mrs. Donald Clark.

Clear Vision is Essential in All Occupations

In modern industrial life, the chief strain falls largely on the eyes; and in overwhelming majority of cases—as proven over and over again by investigators—the delicate mechanism of sight gives way under the pressure. The result is not only impaired vision, but the often more discomforting and serious ills that invariably go with eyestrain, such as severe headaches, pain in the eyeballs and nervous exhaustion.

Truth in Advertising

- "Truth in Advertising" has always been a rigid policy of this firm. It is today—and always will be.
- "Printed Salesmanship" is just as important a policy of any business as salesmanship and service on the floor.
- Our sincere endeavor is to make one dovetail and fit into the other—and to 'back' every statement with actual performance.
- It is our policy to 'build' the best clothes—suit or overcoat—possible for the money, no matter the price paid; to slight no detail of workmanship or fitting in a lower price garment that very naturally would go into the higher priced.
- Satisfaction to every patron is our constant aim.
- The prices of woollens by the manufacturers is advancing every week. We would suggest, therefore if you need something in our line, it would be economy to call soon.

John Pine shipped a car load of cattle to St. Louis this week.

Dale Williams is quarantined at his home on account of scarlet fever. Four weeks ago the little daughter Maxine was quarantined on account of scarlet fever.

Dale has remained from home and it was thought that he would not contract the disease. He is getting along nicely.

Mrs. Frank Ashley and daughter Miss Winifred were visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. F. C. Tinney, Mrs. J. C. Reid and Mrs. J. C. Lewis were visitors in Jacksonville Tuesday.

Mrs. William Vannier and daughters Margaret and Mildred, Mrs. C. J. Atwood and son Howard, Mrs. John Adkins, son John and daughter Lucile; Mrs. Ella Rockwood and Frank Rockwood attended the funeral of their little nephew James Rockwood, 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Rockwood in Springfield Monday.

Other attendants from Bluffs were Rev. E. J. Rees, Rev. and Mrs. E. T. Palmer and mother, Mrs. Margaret Palmer, Misses Victor Knoepfel and George H. Vannier.

Vernon Hale who has been visiting Paul Vannier has returned to his home in Decatur.

Mrs. B. F. Rockwood and Mrs. John Adkins returned from Springfield Tuesday evening, the former having been by the bedside of her little grandson, James Rockwood since Friday, remaining until after the funeral.

Mrs. Albert Knoepfel returned from Chapin Wednesday where she was called by the illness of a relative.

GOOD FELLOWS HELD MEETING

White Hall, Jan. 4.—A meeting of the Good Fellows organization was held in the city hall Thursday night, and the various committees reported on their work in connection with the Christmas tree celebration, resulting in a love feast among the promoters of the greatest Christmas event ever pulled off in this section of the state. No set speeches were heard, but various committees made reports that showed creditable effort and accomplishment in every department of the organization.

There is a cash balance of $117.75 on hand, and this will be used as a fund for continuing the functions of this new organization. A welfare committee, consisting of D. H. Wells, Rev. L. E. Ellison, Mrs. Guy Lowenstein and Miss Ruth Evans was constituted to engage in general welfare work. The tree committee reported that the opportunity presents for a permanent tree on Whiteside park, and the committee was empowered to obtain the permission of the park authorities for the planting of such a tree. There is a considerable amount of clothing on hand for distribution among the needy of the community, and will be found in the city hall in charge of City Marshal Tatman.

Mrs. E. F. Tonn was listed among Saturday shoppers in Jacksonville from Arenzville.

WOULDN'T EXCHANGE WITH MILLIONAIRE

"After five years of suffering with stomach trouble I think I know all about it. But thanks to Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, I am enjoying good health again. I know of a millionaire who is very bad with stomach trouble, but he won't take any patent medicine. In his present condition I wouldn't exchange with him." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists. —adv.

Eye of Pig

Sight may be restored to 15-year-old Alfred Lennanowicz of Lyndhurst, N. J. He is about to have his sightless eye replaced by the eye of a pig. Dr. Edward A. Morgan of Paterson, N. J., performed a similar operation some time ago which proved successful.

COMMITTEE IS CLOSING UP AFFAIRS

The gift campaign committee is rapidly closing up the affairs of the recent successful trade extension project which they staged under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce has been busy notifying the merchants participating in the campaign to return the extra coupons by Tuesday evening in order that they may be reimbursed on those coupons which were not used.

A meeting of the gift campaign committee will be held Wednesday morning at 9:30 to make an audit of the books and O. K. all outstanding bills in order that they may be paid at once. A general meeting of all the participants in the campaign has been called for Thursday evening. The object of this meeting is to make a complete report of the campaign to them and to ascertain if they propose to have another such campaign in the future.

BROWN SHOE COMPANY MAY YET BUILD HERE

A note of encouragement was sounded by E. P. McCarty, vice president of the Brown Shoe company of St. Louis, in a letter received yesterday by the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce. The letter speaks of the progress in the building of the company's new factory at Union City and in closing states:

"We are not for one minute forgetting the day when we are going to organize another plant. Be assured that to no place does the Brown Shoe company feel more favorable than to Jacksonville. When the time is right for the building of this factory you may count on our company getting in touch with your city."

This letter is very encouraging to the members of industrial committee of the Chamber of Commerce who see in it a possibility of a factory of this kind being erected in Jacksonville within the year just opened.

ENGAGEMENT IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement has been made in Urbana of the engagement of Miss Mary Alice Pierce of 514 Hardin avenue, and Elmer Nickel of Arenzville, who is a student at Illinois college. Miss Pierce is doing graduate work at the University of Illinois in the department of romance languages and will receive her masters degree in June.

Miss Pierce graduated at Illinois college with the class of '22 and while at college was a member of the Gamma Delta society.

She makes her home with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hamlett at 514 Hardin avenue, and has lived in Jacksonville for a number of years. Mr. Nickel is a member of a prominent family in Arenzville and is now attending Illinois college, and will graduate in June. He is a member of Phi Alpha society. Both of these young people are well known in Jacksonville and have many friends here.

The services will open at 10 o'clock in the morning with a celebration of the Holy Communion. During the day the bishop will make a series of five short addresses. The general subject of these talks will be "The Woman of Samaria." The morning's talk will be entitled "The Geography of Christ." The afternoon meeting will be held in the parish house and all the members and friends of the church are invited to be present. It is hoped that at this time the members of Trinity may have an opportunity of meeting Bishop Sherwood in an informal way and becoming really acquainted with him.

The subjects of Bishop Sherwood's talks in the afternoon will be "His Method of Approach."

COLLEGE OF MUSIC NOTES

Several members of the music faculty spent the vacation in the large cities. Miss Kirby was in Chicago and heard four operas and three symphony concerts. Miss Hay also attended various concerts in Chicago. Miss Sapio was with her parents in New York City, where she heard many concerts and two performances of opera. She played for the radio on New Year's day and received many telephone messages and telegrams of thanks. On Tuesday she played at a meeting of the Fresh Aid Fund club at the Hotel Astor.

Mme. Colard spent several days at the home of a former pupil in Chicago. While there she met several prominent musicians and was entertained at many receptions where she gave short programs with her usual success.

Ray Virgin accompanied three cantatas at a Christmas program given by the pupils of South Jacksonville school.

Miss Horsburgh has just received a letter of New Year's greetings from Prof. Leopold Auer, again expressing interest in the progress of her pupils.

Audrey King played at the Christmas services in church both morning and evening in her home town, Ottumwa, Iowa.

Louise Smith gave two piano solos at the Methodist church in Potomac, Ill., on Saturday evening, Dec. 23, and Sunday evening, Dec. 24.

Suzanne Rinehart played at Palmyra, Ill., during the holidays.

Christine Cotner assisted at a recital given by her sister, at Medford, Okla. She also played for several musicians in Chicago.

Frederick Balch sang in church on New Year's eve at Dryden, Michigan.

Lois Broadstone sang at Christmas services at the Methodist church, Robinson, Ill.

Marie Luke played pipe organ at the Methodist church in Covington, Indiana, also gave a piano program at the musical club.

The fourth and last concert of the Artist series will be held in Music hall on Monday, January 15. Bogumil Sykora, cellist, will be heard at that time and it is firmly expected that the program will be a fitting climax to those concerts already given by Dumesnil, Valentina Crespi and other artists. Market Report

By The Associated Press

REPARATIONS CRISIS CAUSES EXCHANGE DROP

NEW YORK, Jan. 6.—Fears that French determination to exact penalties from Germany for the latter's inability to meet the January 15 reparations payment may lead to serious selling of stock for both accounts in today's brief session of the market declines of one to two points being quite common. French and Belgian bonds also weakened as did the foreign exchanges.

The selling was conducted in an orderly fashion although it was apparent that the buying support which had been furnished by professional interests to stem yesterday's short selling was considerably less effective today.

Foreign exchange sold off slightly. Demand sterling dropped about half a cent to $4.64½; French francs slumped from 7.05 cents to 6.95 and Belgian francs from $6.55 to 6.41½. The German mark was down to 1.16 cents a hundred as against the new low record of 1.15 cents a hundred established yesterday. United States government bonds showed gains of 1 to 2 cents on $100 at the close.

Mayor Crabtree Explains Plan Commission Work

At the opening of the first meeting of the City Planning and Zoning Commission Friday evening, Mayor E. E. Crabtree made an address on "Scrappy City Planning." In this address, the mayor explained the purpose of a city plan and made it appear logical and reasonable, in view of the systematic way in which other enterprises are conducted. The address is as follows:

Mayor Crabtree explained that his statements were based largely on an article in the Municipal Review.

"This is the age of cities, and all the world is city-building. . . In a dim sort of way many persons understand that the time has come when art and skill and foresight should control what so far has been left to chance to work out; that there should be a more orderly conception of civic action; that there is a real art of city-making, and that it behooves this generation to master and practice it.

"We plan our houses and factories. Is it not then absurd that we let our cities grow without plan?

"Cities do not grow—all of them are planned. Most of them are planned in piecemeal fashion by surveyors, acting for real estate owners, by railway engineers acting for their shareholders, and by individual architects or builders acting for their separate clients. The ultimate result is a haphazard collection of plans of land, means of transportation and buildings. But the City interests are not ignored, because every city has more or less power to control these separate plans in the interest of safety, health and convenience. Such control, however, is within restricted limits and the evils that arise from dealing with related parts and problems of the city, as if they were unrelated and disconnected must remain in the absence of any planning of the city as a comprehensive whole.

"Yet in as correct a sense as some houses or factories are planned—cities are now planned. As the lady planner in Sinclair Lewis' town of Gopher Prairie said: 'The planning of many towns is not left to chance. It must have taken genius to make them so scrappy.' It is the method of planning that is the fault—not the absence of planning. Jacksonville needs scientific and orderly planning—not scrappy planning.

Need of Practical Methods.

"While the ideal we wish to attain by city or town planning is that of a more more prosperous and wholesome life for the people, the methods adopted must be intensely practical. There is no real inconsistency between what are called the 'long' and 'short' view of things. The question is to have the right sense of proportion in regard to both. While we should aim high in ultimate achievement, we should not seek to build today beyond what we can complete and render useful with the materials we have. If a man has only sufficient money and materials to build a cottage he would be stupid to start the building of a castle even if he thought he could ultimately find means and material for such a structure. We should therefore, plan and build according to our needs but make the contribution of the day part of what we want to achieve tomorrow.

"The first duty is to define a programme of what can be practically done and to avoid fads. One party will be interested in playgrounds, another in civic centers and beautification generally, another in what is called 'zoning' for the purpose of stabilizing real estate values, another in traffic and another in housing. With all the special pleadings for different parts of a plan there will be constant difficulty to maintain a proper proportion and to look at the city as a comprehensive undertaking. The usual difficulty in getting a comprehensive plan is due to the lack of appreciation of the reciprocal relations between different factors in city development. It may be that in a certain city the question of grade crossing elimination is a most pressing problem and yet to attempt to solve it by itself may be to lose half the value of eliminating the crossings.

Is It Ever Too Late to Plan?

"It is no argument that 'it is too late to plan.' A city is a thing of growth. When a city ceases to grow, either in the quality of its structural improvements or in the quantity and quality of its population it will become a dead city. So long as growth continues, the need of planning prevails. It is equally idle to argue that no one can foresee exactly how the city will grow, and, therefore, any plan will be defective for lack of accurate foresight. There is no question that it is beyond the power of any man to plan a city exactly as it is going to grow. The best he can do is to bring to bear upon the problem accumulated knowledge and his art and the least he will accomplish will be to prevent the recurrence of mistakes, to give 'vision' to the problems of the city and to show how the wasteful results of haphazard development can be avoided. The automobile has introduced new problems in city growth that make the present time especially appropriate for planning or re-planning cities and towns.

"It is said there is just one City in the United States that has been planned, and that is Washington, D. C. The others just grew.

"It is not my purpose, nor would it be seemly to tell the City Planning and Zoning Commission what are its duties. It is my purpose to night to call you together primarily for organization, then let you study the needs of the City. I cannot, refrain, however, from saying that I have in mind that our first problems are water, sewer, pavement and transportation. Some of you may feel that these are not within the province of your committee, but I would like for the City plan commission to work with the City in all matters of this kind, even that of finances.

"A more intelligent idea of these matters will assist the Council and will be of general help to the City.

"As you are aware, we have the first Full Time County Health officer. He has a constructive plan for years to come and will invite your assistance.

"By way of suggestion I will offer the following needs, which you, and through you the citizens, can help. Plumbing inspection; building code and inspection; electrical code and inspection; parking; new hotel; auditorium; improved fire department; tree planting and protection of our trees."
